$615,715,380 REAL AND PERSONAL TAX VALUE IN ST. LOUIS

Taxable Wealth, Exclusive of Public Utility Property, Shown in City Statement.

$484,060,840 IN REALTY

Assessor's Report to State Auditor Shows Year's Increase of $11,177,940.

The taxable wealth of St. Louis, exclusive of the public utility property assessed by the State Board of Equalization, is shown to be $615,715,380 by a statement forwarded Thursday to State Auditor Gordon by Assessor Schramm.

Of this sum, $131,654,540 is assessed against personal property and $484,060,840 against real estate. The figures submitted by Schramm are subject to revision by the city and State Boards of Equalization.

The statement shows an increase over a similar statement filed last year of $11,177,940.

All city property is assessed at two-thirds of its actual value. That there is a very large undeveloped section of the city, is shown by the fact that this statement contains an item of $19,423,513 as assessed against acreage property. The assessment against town lots is $464,637,330, which includes, of course, the buildings.

The Assessor was able to find in St. Louis only $23,873,650 in money, notes and bonds, according to the report. Household personal property shows a value, for assessment purposes, of $23,140,430.

The livestock interests of the city are shown to be quite considerable, for the Assessor found in St. Louis 15,532 horses, 2690 mules, exclusive of the famous seven mules owned by United Railways and which are assessed by the State Board of Equalization as railroad property; 1782 cows and 35 hogs.

The property of United Railways, the steam railroad companies, and the telephone and telegraph lines and bridges is assessed by the State Board of Equalization. The local and State Boards of Equalization last year reduced the amount of the assessment, as fixed by the Assessor, by about $4,000,000.

ONE MAN USES TWO COTS WHILE 105 OCCUPY FLOOR

Giant, 6 Feet, 8 Inches Tall, Causes Mutinous Mutterings in Municipal Lodging House.

There were mutinous mutterings at the Municipal Lodging House Wednesday when it was discovered that although there were only 700 cots for 805 lodgers, one of the guests was using two cots.

There was a reason. The cots are only six feet long, whereas Henry Krueger is 6 feet 8 inches long. Henry was one of the early comers, and, according to the house rules, he was entitled to a cot. As there was no cot that would fit him and he was not collapsible and could not curl up because the cot was not wide enough, Supt. George Arendes said that it was up to him to meet the emergency, so he placed two cots end to end and Krueger was off at full length to the land of dreams.

Late comers, for whom there were no cots, protested against the waste of over five feet of cot-length. Arendes picked out Joe Mitchell, who is barely four feet long, and suggested that he occupy what was left of the cot into which Krueger extended. Mitchell demurred. He said he wanted a whole cot or none at all and went to sleep on the floor. Krueger occupied the two cots all night, while 105 men slept on the floor.

MAN FOUND DEAD IN SNOW

Tide Company Employe Hit by Train on Wabash Tracks.

The body of Henry Wessel, 54 years old, of 3616 Carrie avenue, was found at 6 a. m. Thursday beside the Wabash railroad tracks, between Adelaide and Harris avenues. It was covered with snow.

Wessel was employed by the St. Louis Tide and Tallow Co., Second and Talcott streets. He left the plant at 6 p. m. Wednesday and started for his home. Wessel was struck by a train while walking up the tracks. Both legs were cut off.

"I am in favor of matrimony for all naval officers," said the Secretary, "and shall do all in my power to help such a good cause along."

VOICE FROM AIR IS TRACED TO A YOUNG INVENTOR

Strange Talks With "Someone From Nowhere" Prove to Be Operator's Wireless Phone.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—A mysterious voice wafted over the waters between here and Maine for the last two weeks was found today to have been that of Irving Vermilya, Marconi operator on the steamship Northland, which plies between here and Portland. He has invented a wireless telephone which he says will easily carry his voice in audible tones 25 miles, and that the apparatus costs only $100.

When the Northland docked here, Vermilya, who is only 24 years old, was found in the vessel's wireless house hiding his apparatus preparatory to going to his home in Mount Vernon for dinner. He explained that he had telephoned his wife while coming down the sound a short time previously.

"On all our last trips," he said, "I have sent the captain's messages to the regular shore stations by telephone. The other day, when passing Vineyard Sound light vessel, I relayed a call to a revenue cutter that a schooner was ashore on Handkerchief Shoal."

Wireless operators along the coast have received many surprises through Vermilya's invention. Several days ago the operator at the Sea Gate station nearly dropped out of his chair when, instead of a series of dots and dashes, a voice came out of his receiver: "Northland. Will dock at 4 p. m."

The operator looked about to see if anyone was playing a trick. Finding himself alone, he finished a call to repeat the message. Back came the distinct reply: "Just thought you might be lonesome, and I would say 'Hello.'"

Vermilya would not divulge the workings of his telephone, but he said "it was a simple thing."

ST. LOUIS STUDENT WHO STOLE IN YALE PUT ON PROBATION

Albert K. Rumsey in New Haven Police Court Admits Theft of Classmates' Cameras.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 19.—Albert K. Rumsey of Webster Groves, St. Louis County, a Yale sophomore and son of an investment broker, appeared in Police Court today on a charge of having stolen three cameras from his classmates.

He was put on probation by the Judge in charge of Louis Leyerzapy until June 30, and will depart for his home shortly. His resignation as a member of the sophomore class in Yale University will be accepted and the university will probably detail someone to take him to St. Louis.

Rumsey had confessed to the police and to his friends, including the Rev. Robert Dension, pastor of the United Church.

Rumsey told the police he had a failing for cameras and wanted to get a good one for himself. Beside paying his routine expenses such as board, lodging and tuition, his father gave him an allowance of $12 a week but this did not permit the purchase of a $55 camera which he saw at a local dealer's.

So he went to the rooms of three of his classmates who roomed in the same dormitory, Lawrence Hall, and took their cameras, gaining admission by a pass key which he borrowed from a campus policeman. This was last Thursday.

The following day he took the three cameras and with $15 cash obtained the desired $55 camera, which he has now turned over to the police. He gave his name as E. Waldo Emerson to the dealer.

The classmates from whom he took the cameras are Arthur D. Platt of Portland, Ore.; E. Wald... Emerson of Titusville, Pa., and William H. Gurney of Buffalo.

They complained to the city police, who traced the thefts to Rumsey. It was then too late to drop the complaint and he was arrested. Rumsey is a mild-mannered boy of diminutive stature and was greatly agitated by his arrest. He admitted the facts and cannot explain his reasons except his desire for a camera.

Rumsey is a son of William C. Rumsey, president of the Investors' Real Estate Co., 1600 Pine street, who resides at Joy and Oakwood avenues, Webster Groves.

Young Rumsey is a graduate of Webster Groves High School. He is better known to his friends by his middle name, "Kendrick."

FIANCE WEEPS WITH ACCUSED GIRL IN HOSPITAL

Joseph Schneider Kisses Grayce Maudean Jones, Who Is Prisoner in "Solitary."

HE WILL AID DEFENSE

Young Woman, Who Is Charged With Taking Gems, Is Ill in City Institution.

Joseph Schneider, 25 years old, a clerk in Jantzen's pharmacy, 4401 Olive street, went to the city hospital at noon Thursday to visit Grayce Maudean Jones, 23, who is a prisoner, strapped to a cot in the solitary confinement ward, and charged with taking three diamond rings, valued at $750, from a jeweler in Council Bluffs, Ia.

Schneider kissed the young woman and both wept. He said they were engaged, and that they would be married if he could succeed in getting her out of her present legal trouble, and if she could be cured of her present illness, which has been diagnosed as spinal tuberculosis. He said he would engage a law firm to defend her and to resist any effort to take her to Iowa for trial.

Patient Is Under Guard.

Miss Jones was arrested Wednesday afternoon in her room at 5949 Washington boulevard, and her four trunks and two suit cases, crammed with costly gowns and hats, and containing a number of pieces of diamond jewelry, were taken to Police Headquarters, while she was taken to the hospital. She was at first in an open ward, with her ankles strapped to the cot, but as a further precaution she was removed Thursday to the "solitary," where she is under guard. The straps were not removed.

She told a reporter that she would gladly accept help from Schneider, whom she said she hoped to marry. She said she would not ask help from her father, the Rev. L. W. Jones of Stanberry, Mo., a retired Methodist minister, since he had virtually disowned her, she said, a year ago.

Tells of Three Gay Years.

She was wearing in bed, at the time of her arrest, the diamond rings which made the trouble, and she handed these to the detectives. She seemed to think that this act would result in the dropping of the charge against her. The technical charge against her in St. Louis is that of being a fugitive from justice. Her arrest was caused by the Pinkerton Detective Agency, which is employed by an association of jewelers.

To a reporter at the hospital she told the story of the three gay years since she had left a girl's college. She said her father preached in various places in North Missouri during her girlhood, that as a child she worked in a millinery shop, and that in New Hampton, the place of his last pastorate, she conducted a furniture store.

She said she was engaged to marry Calvin Jones, and that he went to Montana to make his fortune, and was murdered in Butte in June, 1910, two weeks before the time when he had intended to return and marry her.

After this disappointment, she said, she went back to school, attending Walter Jackson College, in Chillicothe, Mo. It was while studying there that she went on a visit to Omaha, stopping in Shenandoah, Io. She met a Shenandoah business man, who gave her employment.

She dressed to the limit of her means, was admired by the young men of Shenandoah, and soon became the object of aversion with some of the matrons, particularly her employer's wife, she said.

Miss Jones soon learned, she said, that her employer was receiving letters from a woman in California, which he tore up and threw into the waste basket after reading them. She took pains to save scraps of some of these letters and piece them together and saved them, she said.

Tells of Divorce Suit.

The employer's wife sued for a divorce, Miss Jones said, and the employer, she declared, begged her to leave Shenandoah, and gave her more than $1000, with which she came to St. Louis, bringing all the finery she had accumulated. She also brought the diamond rings, which, she said, she had accepted on approval from a dealer, Emil Leffert, of Council Bluffs, with the understanding that she was to keep the one she liked best and return the others.

Her spinal trouble began before she left Shenandoah, she said, and she was taken to her train in an automobile by two men, who held her firmly to keep the motion of the car from hurting her. On reaching St. Louis she went first to the Planters Hotel, then to 4419 Olive street, and, after her illness became more serious, she went to the Washington avenue house.

Trunks Taken by Police.

Her trunks were taken to police headquarters. Miss Jones said published inventories of the contents were incorrect, and that she had five hats, the best costing $40, and perhaps as many as 20 dresses, worth $20 to $30 each. She had many shoes, she said, but not 50 pairs, and three silk dress patterns, which, she said, must have been what the police described as "bolts of silk."

COURT DISMISSES BILLBOARD FIRM'S INJUNCTION SUIT

Action by Judge Dyer in Case of the St. Louis Poster Advertising Company.

APPEAL NOTICE IS FILED

But City Is Enabled to Continue With Enforcement of the Billboard Ordinance.

The St. Louis Poster Advertising Co.'s suit for a permanent injunction against Building Commissioner McKelvey and other city officials, to restrain them from interfering with the company's billboards, was dismissed, Thursday, by Judge Dyer of the United States District Court. This action disposes of the injunction proceeding and enables Commissioner McKelvey to continue with the enforcement of the city ordinance against illegal billboards.

Application for a temporary injunction was made about two weeks ago and was denied by Judge Dyer. The attorneys of the billboard company then asked that a day be set for arguments on an application for a permanent injunction. The arguments were made Thursday.

City Counselor Baird argued that the petition should be dismissed because it did not state sufficient cause to entitle the plaintiff to equitable relief.

Company's Argument.

Marion C. Early and Matt G. Reynolds, attorneys for the billboard company, argued that the company had not been given due process of law, in that McKelvey had not followed the course prescribed in the ordinance, but had simply served notice on the company to take down its boards and on its failure to do so had proceeded to tear them down, acting as judge, jury and executioner.

Counselor Baird said it was absurd for the company to make that plea, when it had, by its resistance to the enforcement of the law, created the condition that made such procedure necessary.

Notice of Appeal Filed.

Judge Dyer, in dismissing the case, said the billboard ordinance had been on the books for nine years. Its provisions were known to the company, but it went on regardless of these provisions and did as it pleased, he said, and then it came into court and pleaded that it was not getting due process of law, when it had been making no attempt to obey the law.

The Supreme Court of the State had declared, he said, that the billboard ordinance was valid. The Supreme Court was a court of last resort in all local matters, he stated, and its action was binding on the United States District Court on all matters of local concern.

The billboard company attorneys filed notice of an appeal, and asked 20 days in which to prepare their bill of exceptions, and this was granted.

Promoter Who Has Lobbied Four Years for A. & M. Grab

LEO J. SCHERRER.

THE activity of Leo J. Scherrer, promoter of the Alton & Mississippi free bridge approach grab continued at the city hall for four years, is one of the outstanding features of the long delay in completing the free bridge.

Scherrer has lobbied almost incessantly for four years in the Council and House of Delegates for the A. & M. grab and has created sufficient defection at various times from the administration program to block the progress of plans to complete the free bridge by the construction of the approach recommended by Maxime Reber, former President of the Board of Public Improvements.

Democrats and Republicans have fallen under the spell of Scherrer's persistent lobbying. He has become one of the most familiar figures at Assembly meetings, rarely being absent when any legislation pertaining to the free bridge is up for consideration. He has avoided newspaper interviews to a great extent, but has haunted the press rooms to supply data about his project whenever it or its rival plan was under discussion.

The walls of the Council and House of Delegates today are decorated with handsomely framed maps, donated by Scherrer, showing the route of the A. & M. belt railway and the Reber approach. To every member of the Assembly has been presented a copy of these maps and as much other data as they could be induced to take.

Time and again when the administrations have put it squarely up to the Assembly to enact a program for the completion of the bridge, the party members and Democrats have taken their stand with Scherrer and his plan, in the face of certain political ostracism by the administrations.

His persistence and success has made the horde of professional legislative agents of public service corporations that infest the city hall take notice. The most astute politicians who have undertaken to deliver big legislative contracts have marveled and expressed astonishment at the ability of Scherrer to stay in the ring for so long a time and under such deterring influences.

Three times the personnel of the House of Delegates has changed, and one complete change of the Council membership has occurred since Scherrer began to work for the adoption of his approach plan. His method of persuasion by personal contact and discussion, supplemented by numerous trips in automobiles over the route of the A. & M. line, has been pursued with each legislative body.

In the crucial periods of the current campaign to finish the bridge, Scherrer has been close at hand at all times, advising the House of Delegates majority through its accepted leader, Delegate Gallagher of the Fourth Ward.

MAN SEEKING WIFE, EMPLOYE, SHOOTS SELF AT FAUST'S

Matt Murphy Had Called at Cafe Hoping to See Estranged Woman.

As diners were entering Faust's Cafe, Broadway and Elm street, at noon Thursday, Matt Murphy of 1008 Chestnut street, standing in the employes' entrance, shot himself in the breast. To the customers who were entering, or who were already seated at tables, the shot sounded like the explosion of an automobile tire.

A moment later, the noise and confusion in the employes' entrance caused some stir among the diners. This subsided after the man was taken away in an ambulance a few minutes later.

Murphy was unconscious when employes picked him up. He was recognized as the husband of Frieda Murphy, who is employed as a pastry cook in Faust's kitchen. He has worked as a teamster.

The two were separated, and, the other employes say, Murphy has made frequent visits to the cafe, trying to see her. Orders had been given to keep him out of the kitchen.

Entering through the buffet on Broadway, Murphy had gone into the hallway which leads into the kitchen. A few minutes later Miss Cora Brooks, checker in the kitchen, heard the shot and found him lying on the floor.

He was taken to the city hospital.

LOSER IN POKER GAMES AT HOTELS HAS 2 ARRESTED

Police Also Hunt a Mysterious "Mr. Green" Who Told Man Where He Could "Sit In."

Lawrence Lindeman of 4148A Von Versen avenue, Thursday, caused the arrest of Thomas E. Baldwin, a guest at the La Salle Hotel, and William F. Naber, a guest at the Hotel Jefferson, alleging that they "sat in" with him at poker games in which he lost money and pledged valuable jewelry to cover his losses.

The police are looking for a mysterious "Mr. Green."

Lindeman told detectives that about 10 days ago he met Green at the Cambridge Court Cafe. Green, he said, suggested a game of poker and took him to room 421 at the Hotel Jefferson, where he played poker with Green, Baldwin and another man, whose name he did not learn. After losing $50, he said, he put up his watch and chain and a diamond ring as security.

Last Tuesday night, he said, he again met Green at Sixth and Locust streets, and was taken to room 213 at the La Salle Hotel, where he again played poker, this time with Green, Naber and another man whom he did not know. Here he lost $60, and put up a diamond ring to cover the loss.

Baldwin admits that he played poker at the Hotel Jefferson with Lindeman and Naber admits being in the game at the La Salle. Both say they also lost, and that they were taken to the hotel rooms by "Mr. Green."

INITIATIVE TO BE INVOKED TO FINISH THE FREE BRIDGE

Citizens' Committee, Representing 40,000 Persons, Will Set to Work Immediately to Obtain, in Ten Days, 30,658 Signatures on Petitions to Force Election.

PLEA FOR THE REBER APPROACH REJECTED

Conferees Throw Out Business Men's Argument Because of "Inaccuracies" and Hear Advocates of a Foreign Proposition.

Representatives of 64 business and civic organizations with more than 40,000 members, comprising the Citizens' Free Bridge Committee, will meet in the offices of the Business Men's League at 4 p. m. Thursday, to take active steps toward invoking the initiative to force the submission of the Reber approach bond issue to a vote of the people.

The Citizens' Committee, rebuffed and defied by the Joint Conference Committee of the Council and House of Delegates, its petition for the passage of the Reber approach bill rejected on the pretext that it contained inaccuracies, has determined to justify its stand by circulating initiative petitions, and forcing the Municipal Assembly to complete the bridge.

After the Joint Committee had finally rejected the Citizens' Committee's petition Wednesday afternoon, Chairman Fletcher expressed the personal opinion to reporters and others that his committee had "shown too much patience with the d—d Citizens' Committee."

Can Compel Submission.

By obtaining the signatures of 30,658 voters to initiative petitions the Citizens' Committee can either force the Municipal Assembly to pass the Reber approach bond issue bill, or compel its submission to a vote of the people.

Officials of the Citizens' Committee expressed the opinion Thursday that the necessary signatures could be obtained within 10 days, through the machinery of the different business and civic organizations that have indorsed the Reber approach.

Under the initiative and referendum amendment to the city charter, adopted in 1912, the Municipal Assembly will be compelled within 40 days to pass the bond issue ordinance, or call a special election within 90 days for the submission of the ordinance to a vote of the people.

The Citizens' Committee will proceed on the theory that the Joint Conference Committee will recommend the $4,200,000 Alton & Mississippi grab, and that the City Council will refuse to concur in the recommendations. As five members of the Joint Committee are outspoken advocates of the Alton & Mississippi grab, there is little likelihood of any report favoring the Reber approach bill.

It is anticipated by the Rever approach advocates that the House of Delegates might even refuse to recognize a mandatory petition of the voters. In such event, the Citizens' Committee has ascertained, mandamus proceedings would lie. The committee would proceed to obtain a writ of mandamus against the members of the House of Delegates, who refuse to yield to the mandatory petitions, compelling them to submit the Reber approach ordinance to a vote of the people.

If the House of Delegates should refuse to submit the ordinance, in accordance with a decree of the Court, the members could be punished for contempt.

Two special elections would be necessary, under the initiative amendment, to get the bond issue finally to a vote of the people. The vote first would have to be taken on the ordinance authorizing the submission of the bond issue to the people. If a majority of the people voting at the election cast their votes in favor of it, a second special election, at a date fixed by the ordinance, thus would be provided for at which the people would vote on the bond issue. A two-thirds vote would be required to pass the bond issue.

It is hardly probable that the first election could be held before May 1, as the Municipal Assembly would have the power to hold up the proposed ordinance for 40 days before taking any action on it. As the ordinance itself would fix the date of the second election, it is thought by the Citizens' Committee that the bond issue could still be submitted to the people before June 1.

CONFEREES CLOSE BRIDGE HEARING

Final Session Taken Up by Advocates of Proposition Foreign to Subject.

The Joint Committee of the Council and House of Delegates closed the public hearings Wednesday afternoon. Most of the time at the final hearing was taken up by three speakers who were advocating a proposition not under consideration by the committee.

Despite the fact that these speakers, under the rules of parliamentary procedure, were not entitled to a hearing at all, because they were not speaking to any subject under consideration by the committee, they had the most earnest attention of the members of the committee, who had taken the position that no representative of the Citizens' Committee, who confined their discussions strictly to the two approaches under consideration, could again have the privilege of being heard.

The important feature of the hearing, bearing directly on the questions under consideration by the committee, was the opinion of City Counselor Baird that the city had definitely, by ordinance 26,486, located the eastern free bridge approach, and that the city thereby had exhausted its powers of acquiring or holding another approach site in Illinois.

The section of ordinance 26,486, locating and establishing the Reber approach, was printed in the Post-Dispatch Wednesday. This ordinance was passed June 12, 1912. Baird told the committee that it settled all questions pertaining to the location of the approach.

Some of the speakers declared that because the bond issue submitted in August, 1912, had failed to carry, the ordinance fixing the approach had been thereby automatically repealed. At that election a majority of more than 18,000 votes was cast in favor of the bond issue, being just short of a two-thirds majority, but this fact was lost sight of by the committee in its eagerness to escape the provisions of the ordinance.

Baird and Bates Differ.

Delegate Hall asked Baird if this bond issue vote had not repealed the ordinance, and Baird replied that it had no effect whatever on it. Former City Counselor Bates then was called upon for an opinion on the point, and he expressed the view that the result of the election had nullified the ordinance.

After Baird had expressed the opinion that the eastern approach could not be more clearly located than by the ordinance of June 12, 1912, Bates was asked to express his opinion. He declared this ordinance had not fixed the location.

"Now, Mr. Bates," said Delegate Scully, a member of the committee, "the papers all say that you are the paid attorney of the Alton & Mississippi promoters."

"I am the paid attorney of the Alton & Mississippi" Bates replied.

"But what I want to ask you," persisted Scully, "is if you are just as independent and impartial in giving us your opinion on this subject as if you were not the paid attorney of the Alton & Mississippi?"

Bates Opposed to Reber Approach.

Bates did not answer the question directly, but read a letter he had written to Chairman Shapleigh of the Citizens' Committee, declining to become a member of that committee. In the letter he stated that he had been opposed to the Reber approach—had voted against the Reber approach bond issues—and was employed as counsel for the Alton & Mississippi Co.

Bates also expressed the opinion that the city had not exhausted its powers of condemnation under the Congressional grant, taking issue with City Counsellor Baird on all points.

Cornelius Fauntleroy, John P. McDonough and Frank H. Gerhart spoke in favor of the northeast approach, which has not at any time been under consideration by the committee.

Schneiderhahn Writes of Schutz.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Mr. Schutz is dead and cannot defend himself. I will defend his honor. In your yesterday's paper, Mr. Gerhart's speech delivered before the Joint Conference Committee of the Municipal Assembly, is epitomized as follows:

"He (meaning Gerhart) read a report by former Councilman Schutz favoring the Reber approach, and said that Schutz told him, after writing the report, that he prepared it as a result of a misunderstanding of the facts, and that he had been misled by others."

To say the least, I certainly am astonished by that statement. It would seem to indicate either that Mr. Schutz was incapable of performing his duties as a Councilman, or that he was easily misled. An oral statement is now reported, after Mr. Schutz's death, to discredit an elaborate report written out by Mr. Schutz on the question of the location of the Eastern railroad approach to the municipal bridge. But every vote cast by Mr. Schutz after the submission of his said report was in conformity with his said report. The Council reports bear me out.

The facts are, that Mr. Schutz as chairman of the Public Improvements Committee of the Council, submitted an elaborate report favoring the location of the Reber approach (Journal of the Council, 1910-1911, p. 238). It was his custom to go into the fullest detail. In this way he referred to the Gerhart approach as passing "through a large drop foundry." In this it seems he was mistaken, as the line touched only the corner. But even as to such errors he was very sensitive and expressed his regrets and complained about being misled into stating such things as facts when they were not absolute facts. And there may have been some other details of a like nature that I do not now recall. Those details it would not have been necessary to have mentioned in the first instance.

The first paragraph of that report covers his recommendation. The Reber route was recommended and approved (bill 3) and the Gerhart route (bill 22) was scathingly criticised and rejected. The underlying proposition on which the report was offered was the acquisition of lands for the most suitable and feasible route. It is fair to state that in this work of selecting such a route the committee of the then Council and House of Delegates were both engaged and there was no difference of opinion. I say this as a matter of fairness to the House of Delegates.

I never heard Mr. Schutz speak of any regrets as to said report except that he was sensitive about some of the detail errors above spoken of, which in no event could or would have changed the substance and the real gist of the report. And Mr. Schutz, after submitting said report, repeatedly declared himself publicly in the Council and privately to me and others as favoring the Reber approach route for the acquisition of lands, and equally within my knowledge he condemned the so-called northeast route. Another approach route had been rejected in the very beginning.

I regret exceedingly to have been forced, by loyalty to a deceased friend, to make this statement at a time when I should have preferred not to call the dead to witness. But I felt indignant that the dead, by indirection as it were, should be called as a living witness for a dead issue—the northeast approach.

WOMAN THE ONLY PASSENGER IN A MONROE LIFEBOAT

Seaman Testifies Capt. Johnson Rowed From Wreck With 15 of Crew on Board.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19.—There were 15 men and one woman, a negress, in the life boat launched under the direction of Capt. Edward E. Johnson of the wrecked steamship Monroe, according to testimony today in the trial of Capt. Osmyn Berry of the steamship Nantucket, which collided with the Monroe.

Martin Reinhardtsen, able seaman, testified concerning the life boats. He said there was not one person in the boat when Capt. Johnson gave orders to row away from the doomed ship that he could positively identify as a passenger. He learned afterward, he said, that the negress was a passenger.

Capt. Johnson, when on the stand, said he rowed to the other side of the ship and altogether rescued about 30 persons.

Capt. Berry is charged with having caused the disaster through neglect of duty.

SENATOR SEEKS FACTS ON NEW HAVEN INQUIRY

Norris Introduces Resolution Asking Whether Attorney-General Contemplates Immunity Grant.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, today introduced a resolution in the Senate directing Attorney-General McReynolds to inform the Senate whether the Department of Justice is contemplating entering into any contract or agreement with officials of the New York, New Haven & Hartford for reorganization of the railroad or settlement of its financial difficulties.

Consideration of the resolution was deferred until tomorrow on objection to immediate action by Senator Bankhead of Alabama.

The resolution would ask specific information on whether any agreement would contemplate giving immunity to any persons connected with New Haven transactions and whether such an agreement contemplates the surrender of any right for actions to recover money or damages, "on account of the misappropriation of the money, funds or property of said company."

SIEGEL USED BANK FUNDS

Bankrupt Store's Loans Not Recorded, Receivers Report.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Liabilities of the Fourteenth Street Store, one of the bankrupt Siegel enterprises, were reported by the receivers today as $3,748,000, against assets of $1,416,000. The Simpson-Crawford Co. store showed liabilities of $5,823,000 and assets of $5,200,000. Figures for the store in Boston were not given.

The receivers found that deposits in the private bank conducted by Henry Siegel and Frank E. Vogel, aggregating $250,000, "had been used by Siegel and Vogel in some way in the conduct of the three stores," although the books of the stores did not reveal their indebtedness for such loans.

WHY COLDS LEAD TO PNEUMONIA

When a cold is neglected it attacks the lining of the lungs — then it's pneumonia. Father John's Medicine is best for colds and protects against pneumonia because it nourishes the system and drives out the poisonous waste matter—any other way of treating a cold is likely to lead to pneumonia. Not a "cough syrup" or "balsam" depending upon dangerous and weakening drugs, but a food medicine and body builder.—ADV.

Redfern Corsets Embody the Season's Highest Fashion Notes

The Parisian, the Londoner, the Viennese, the New Yorker—women of fashion wherever found, are familiar with Redfern Corsets as marking a fashion that strikes each season the highest note. However extreme the mode in dress, Redfern Corsets are harmonious with it and in themselves artistic creations.

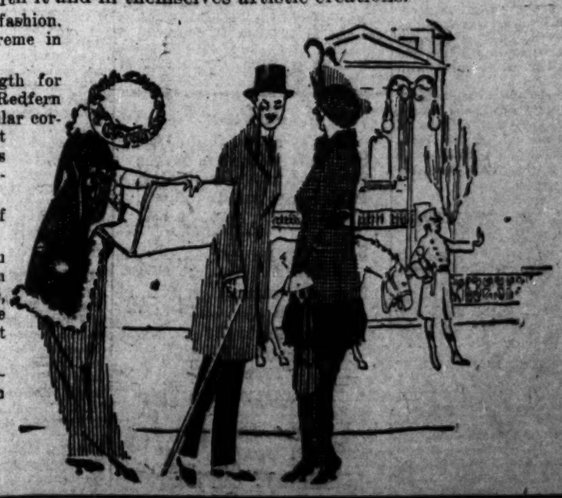

The supple silhouette denotes figure ease quite as much as fashion. Each Redfern model, however lightly boned or topless, or extreme in length, is a shapely and easy fitting model.

The cloths of soft, smooth weave have the necessary strength for holding the figure regardless of posture. Naturally there are Redfern stays of heavy fabric and stays more solidly boned, but the popular corsets are the corsets that you can dance in—corsets that you can rest in. There is no Redfern model that you cannot rest in, since it is too perfectly designed and put together to be anything but comfortable.

This designing—putting together—takes the Redfern out of the commonplace into the real artistic atmosphere.

We can explain the merits of these corsets much better if you will only give us the opportunity to select your particular Redfern model from this new collection. It has never been our good fortune, up to now, to assemble such a perfect collection of corsets for the very good reason that, not to our knowledge, have so many perfect models ever been assembled in any one line.

Redfern models are not an extravagance—quite the contrary—they are the highest class ready-to-wear garment at the price of an ordinary corset.

JURY CLEARS GORE; HUNDREDS WIRE CONGRATULATIONS

Verdict Returned in Ten Minutes and Half-Hour Demonstration Follows.

MRS. BOND IS UNMOVED

Jurors Say They Would Have Exonerated Senator on Plaintiff's Testimony.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Feb. 19.—Scores of messages congratulating Thomas P. Gore, United States Senator from Oklahoma, on his exoneration late yesterday of charges of improper conduct, made by Mrs. Minnie E. Bond in a suit for $50,000 damages, were received by the Senator today. The Senator announced that he would spend today and tomorrow here after which he would go to Hot Springs for a short vacation before he returns to Washington to resume his duties in the Senate. He said he never had doubted the outcome of the suit against him.

Notice of appeal from the verdict was given today by attorneys for Mrs. Bond. Mrs. Bond stated today that she and her husband would move to Dallas, Tex.

The verdict was returned 10 minutes after the case was given to the jury. Only one ballot was taken.

"We find," the jury stated in the verdict, "the evidence submitted by the plaintiff entirely insufficient upon which to base a suit; that said evidence wholly exonerates the defendant, and had the defendant, at the conclusion of the plaintiff's evidence, announced that he desired to introduce no evidence and rested his case, our verdict would have been the same in that event as now returned by us, in favor of the defendant."

Demonstration for Gore.

Instantly on hearing the verdict, despite efforts of bailiffs to preserve order, the crowded courtroom was in a turmoil. The Senator's friends and admirers raised cheer after cheer, and those displeased with the verdict silently pushed their way to the outside.

Mrs. Bond apparently was unmoved by the verdict or the demonstration that followed. She sat quietly at a table scribbling on a piece of paper.

No one in the courtroom tried to stem the cheering. It rose and subsided and rose again. Judge Clark smiled. After the demonstration had lasted 10 minutes, the Judge left the bench. Court was never adjourned. The Judge forgot it. So did the Sheriff.

Senator Gore alone remained calm. The crowd surged toward him. His wife had her arms about him. She was weeping almost hysterically. Hundreds crowded to get the Senator's hand to congratulate him. Men threw their arms about his shoulders. The demonstration lasted 30 minutes.

Mrs. Bond and her husband left the courtroom while the demonstration was at its height. When it was all over, Senator Gore was asked what he thought of the verdict.

"It confirms my faith that truth will triumph," said he.

Mrs. Gore declared she was "too happy for words."

"I am thinking now of my babies, and I want to get home to them," she said.

Tumulty Congratulates Gore.

An hour after the verdict had been read Senator Gore received this telegram from Joseph Tumulty, President Wilson's secretary:

"Heartiest congratulations.

"TUMULTY."

This was one of the earliest of hundreds received from men prominent in politics and business throughout the country. They began as soon as the news of the verdict was flashed over the country and continued today in an uninterrupted stream.

The trial began last Wednesday. In her declaration Mrs. Bond alleged that the Senator attacked her when they conferred at a hotel in Washington last March in connection with the possible appointment of her husband, Julian Bond, as Internal Revenue Collector at Oklahoma City. Gore seized her, she alleged, pushing her backward. She alleged she freed herself only after several men appeared in the doorway of the room. In the scuffle, Mrs. Bond asserted, her face was scratched and hand lacerated by fragments of her broken eyeglasses. In his answer Senator Gore denied the charges, and as a counter charge alleged the suit was instigated by political opponents who had failed in their efforts to obtain Federal patronage.

Nine farmers, a grocer, a banker and a broker, made up the jury, obtained the first day of the trial. Mrs. Bond was called as the first witness. She denied any knowledge of the plot alleged by the Senator, who is a candidate for renomination at the Oklahoma primaries next August. Efforts to have depositions introduced bearing on alleged incidents in connection with the past of both plaintiff and defendant were prevented by a ruling of Judge Clark, who held such evidence not vital to the suit.

Defeated Candidates Witnesses.

T. E. Robertson, Kirby Fitzpatrick and Dr. J. P. Earp, Oklahomans, who were in Washington at the time of the hotel episode, appeared as witnesses for Mrs. Bond. All were unsuccessful candidates for Federal positions. Robertson and Fitzpatrick claimed to have been eye-witnesses to the alleged assault, while Earp asserted he had been importuned by Gore to have Mrs. Bond leave Washington and "hush the matter up."

Testifying in his own defense Senator Gore characterized the allegations as "infamous lies," and asserted that Mrs. Bond seized him and at an opportune moment Robertson and Fitzpatrick appeared in the room. Other witnesses for defense quoted witnesses for the plaintiff as admitting a "frame up" against Senator Gore had been arranged and quoted several as having made threats to "get the Senator."

Argument began Tuesday and was finished at 5:30 Wednesday afternoon. The case went to the jury at 5:42, after Morton Rutherford, attorney for Mrs. Bond, made the closing argument. Four minutes later a deputy was called to the jury room and told that the verdict had been reached, within 10 minutes it had been returned.

Mississippi House Passes Resolution Congratulating Gore.

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 19.—The lower House of the Mississippi Legislature today adopted a resolution congratulating United States Senator Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma "upon his happy deliverance from the snares of political enemies and the triumphant vindication of his spotless name."

The resolution, which was passed by a vote of 80 to 42, aroused vigorous opposition, many members declaring they considered the declaration interference in Oklahoma politics. Senator Gore is a native of Mississippi and was at one time a page in the lower House of the Legislature.

COL. GOETHALS DUE IN NEW YORK LATE TODAY

His Ship Is Delayed in Futile Effort to Aid Schooner in Distress.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Col. George W. Goethals, chairman of the Isthmian Canal Commission, is aboard the steamship Metapan, due to arrive in New York late today. His ship was delayed in a futile effort to aid the schooner Kineo, in distress north of Diamond Shoals.

Until Col. Goethals lands, it is not known what he proposes to do with respect to the offer made to him by Mayor Mitchel for the Police Commissionership of New York, which, Mayor Mitchel insists, the Colonel has accepted.

The Major has been told that the impression prevails in some quarters that the Colonel's name was simply used to further the passage of the so-called "Goethals police bills," at Albany, despite the very general belief that Col. Goethals would not accept the police commissionership. This the Mayor denied.

Stomach Troubles Due to Acidity

So Says Eminent Specialist.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, stomach-ache and inability to retain food, are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and acid formation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. ## INQUEST RESUMED IN CASE OF GIRL SLAIN ON GRAVE

Miss Hollander's Father to Tell of Quarrel She Had With Prisoner.

AURORA, Ill., Feb. 19.—Inquest into the death of Miss Theresa Hollander, who was found slain Monday night on a grave in St. Nicholas' Cemetery, was resumed at 2 o'clock this afternoon, following the funeral, which was held at the family home and at St. Nicholas' Church this morning.

Although the list of witnesses was not made public, it was declared by the Coroner that some important testimony was in prospect and that new evidence would be introduced. This, he said, would have to do with the movements of Miss Hollander on the night she was killed and whom she met on her trip homeward.

A portion of the testimony touching on the finding of the girl's battered body has been heard by the Coroner, but it is expected her father will go on the stand today and tell what he knows of Anthony Petras, a former sweetheart of Miss Hollander, who has been held since the discovery of the crime.

Petras, while he admits that he was on the car which the girl took for her home the night of the murder, declares he knows nothing of the crime. The finding of a knife near the body, which had been lost by a friend of Petras, is considered important.

Girl Quarreled With Man.

Miss Hollander's father will be asked in detail concerning a quarrel which he says his daughter had with Petras a short time before the young woman was killed. The home of Petras and his bride is only a short distance from that of Miss Hollander. Both lived near the cemetery where the body was found.

The burial today took place only a few feet from the spot where the body was found. The funeral services were attended by a large number of persons.

Prominent among the attendants were the members of the Knights and Ladies of Honor, of which Miss Hollander was the secretary. She had attended a meeting of the order and was on her way home when she was slain.

STUDENTS TEACH TANGO TO MAKE EXPENSES

Three Men Are Working Way Through New York University by Acting as Dance Tutors.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—It became known today that at least three students at New York University were working their way through college by teaching the one-step, tango, hesitation, maxixe and other modern dances.

One of the students is Edmund Joseph Fixman, who is taking a college course leading to an A. B. degree.

"Although I am kept busy with my studies," he said yesterday, "I find time to do some professional teaching on the side. I have been able to support myself and still have a considerable sum left after meeting all my expenses. I am thinking of increasing my staff of tango instructors. I know some very clever dancers among the undergraduates."

KILLS MOTHER-IN-LAW SHOOTS WIFE, HER FATHER

Hutchinson (Kan.) Pawnbroker Attacks Family When Suffering From Epilepsy.

HUTCHINSON, Kan., Feb. 19.—Abraham Ostatter, a pawnbroker here, early today shot and killed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Coahn, then shot his wife, Mrs. Sadie Ostatter, and his father-in-law, Joseph Coahn, inflicting probably fatal wounds. Ostatter then fell to the floor unconscious. A physician said he was suffering from epilepsy. After being revived and lodged in the city jail, the pawnbroker said his family had attacked him.

The shooting occurred at the home of Joseph Coahn, where the Ostatters were living. A suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Ostatter is pending in the District Court.

BLUE FULL DRESS SUITS

London Expects Innovation to Cross the Atlantic.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—A change in evening dress, which may mean the introduction of colored instead of black clothes, is suggested by the fact that several diners at the Master Tailors' Association meeting last night wore dark blue evening dress, which gave the wearers a smart appearance.

Some of the diners freely prophesied that further changes in evening dress will soon be seen in London. These changes are expected to be followed, of course, in all the other capitals of Europe and America.

EARL TO OPEN A CAFE

LONDON, Feb. 19.—Like many another member of the old British nobility, the Earl of Scarborough has decided to go into trade. Before the seaside season begins he will, if the Justice grant him a license, be retailing tea, rolls and butter, not at a charity bazaar, but every day in the week at an up-to-date restaurant at Skegness-on-Sea.

The Earl has decided to relinquish his investments in real estate and to go into business as a caterer and restaurant keeper.

TALBERT PLANS TO FLUSH DOWNTOWN STREETS NIGHTLY

The streets in the district between Twelfth street and the river and Market street and Franklin avenue will be cleaned every night next summer by flushing machine, instead of being sprinkled several times a day, to the inconvenience of pedestrians, if Street Commissioner Talbert can get an appropriation of $15,000 to pay for the cost of the additional service.

Talbert said the streets could be kept clean by being flushed every night, and the dust thereby would be kept down, making day sprinkling unnecessary. The streets, under the system now in use, are flushed once a week, and the dust is kept down by sprinkling.

Sprinkling is an ineffective method, Talbert finds, of getting rid of dust. As soon as the water evaporates, under the hot sun, the dust is dried and is blown into stores and business houses.

Street flushing is done with powerful machines containing compressed air tanks, which throw out water with great force, removing all dirt and dust from the streets. In the business districts these machines can be used only at night, when the streets are deserted. The city now owns 36 flushing machines.

Contracts for sprinkling the streets in the business district have been let for next summer, but as these contracts give the city the right to withdraw any street or streets, they will not interfere with Talbert's plan if the Comptroller and Municipal Assembly will appropriate the money for it.

FOUR KILLED, 30 HURT IN INDIANAPOLIS CAR WRECK

Five Injured When Car Is Crushed Between Two Others, Expected to Die.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 19.—Four persons were killed, five probably fatally injured and 25 others hurt here last night when an outbound English avenue street car was crushed between two heavy traction cars. The accident occurred at Virginia avenue and South street, and was caused by slippery rails.

The English avenue car, loaded with persons homeward bound from the business section, stopped at the foot of a steep grade, just behind a Columbus & Southern Traction car and a large Indianapolis & Cincinnati traction freight car, on the grade behind the city car crashed into the smaller car.

The persons killed and majority of the injured were standing on the rear platform of the English avenue car, which was telescoped.

DETROIT PASTOR WHOSE HOME BURNED, IS HELD

Parsonage Destroyed During Sermon; Arrest Follows Long Investigation.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 19.—J. A. Cottem, a Methodist minister of Dearborn, a Detroit suburb, whose parsonage burned a few weeks ago while he was preaching a sermon on "Why I Am a Protestant," has been arrested, charged with setting fire to his home.

Pastor Cottem created considerable excitement prior to his sermon by statements that he had been warned not to make it and threatened with personal injury, and other damages if he persisted. When the parsonage burned, he ascribed it to sectarian enmity.

His story was generally credited, and the police have been trying to find the incendiary ever since. Finally suspicion settled on the preacher. His detention followed a long grilling by the police, at which members of the church made damaging affidavits.

RATE DECISION PROMISED WITHIN THREE MONTHS

It Certainly Will Be Given Before July Recess, Commissioner Harlan Says.

MORE TESTIMONY SOUGHT

Shippers That Favor Increase Invited to Give Information to Commission.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission on the proposed freight rate increase is expected to be reached probably within three months, and certainly before the commission adjourns for its summer recess July 1. This announcement, substantially, was made by Commissioner Harlan today.

Commissioner Harlan said:

"Recognizing the public importance of an early disposition of the problems before us here, the carriers, shippers and the commission are using every effort to bring the inquiry to an early conclusion, and there is reason to think the record on the main issues in the case may be closed and the arguments had in time to enable the commission to dispose of those questions before the summer recess."

Commissioner Harlan explained that the commission had before it two broad inquiries as to the proposed advance:

"Are the present revenues of the carriers adequate?"

"If not, how may they be supplemented?

No Cross-Examination Yet.

"With respect to the first of these issues, the carriers have already offered much testimony, but their witnesses had not been cross-examined; nor have the investigations by the commission on that question been completed. We are also advised that certain shipping interests will submit testimony touching the adequacy of the present revenue of carriers. In aid of an understanding of the first question and of a proper solution of the second question, the commission, as I explained at a recent hearing, also has addressed certain inquiries to carriers which they have not yet been able fully to answer. Pending the preparation by the railroads of their replies, we have been hearing the protests of shippers against the proposed increases in the rates on certain particular commodities in which they deal or are otherwise interested."

At the hearings held so far, testimony was taken regarding free services and special allowances to large shippers. A hearing will be held here Feb. 27 and 28 to consider further the charges for "spotting" cars on sidetracks and for similar services; and on March 16 and 17 those subjects will be argued. Records of the commission show that there are 25,000 shippers' sidetracks and spur tracks in the territory east of the Mississippi River.

Harlan expressed the desire of the commission that the commercial interests of Chicago, Detroit, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Buffalo come together at the hearings prepared to advise the commission of switching and spur track conditions in those cities. Other cities also may be heard. At these hearings none of the services to and from and within industrial plants will be considered. It is the information as to what the charges should be for the placing of cars and for the use of sidings and spurs.

On March 4 and 5 the question of a charge for placing cars for loading on spur tracks leading to coal mines and coke ovens will be considered. That will include consideration of the cancellation by carriers of allowances to industrial roads of coal companies and to mine operators.

March 6 and 7 have been reserved for the hearing of the protests against the proposed increase in coal rates; and March 9, 10 and 11 have been set aside for the hearing of general objections to the proposed general increase in rates and particularly for hearing representatives of the state railroad commissions.

Questions Asked of Shippers.

That part of the case that pertains to the proposed increases in lake and rail rates will be heard at Washington March 12, 13 and 14.

Separate hearings will be assigned later to consider lighterage and other special services at New York City and in New York Harbor, and considering reconsignments and diversions in transit, free storage, etc.

The commission announced that it had received many resolutions from organizations of shippers and commercial bodies advocating the proposed advance. In a circular letter to the organizations, the commission points out that it is now engaged in a comprehensive investigation of special services performed by the railroads for the shippers, as bearing on the general question of an advance.

Recipients of the letter are requested to reply to certain inquiries relating to these special services, and to have the replies in the hands of the commission not later than March 2.

PRESIDENT GAINS SUPPORT AGAINST TOLL EXEMPTION

Executive in Talks With Congressmen Presses Request for Canal Clause Repeal.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—President Wilson pressed further for repeal of the exemption clause of the Panama Canal act in conferences today with Congressmen. He talked with Senator Kern, majority leader, who said afterward that the Senate first would dispose of the arbitration treaties promptly and probably take up the tolls question immediately thereafter. He thought it probable the Senate would act on the repeal before the House did.

Although Kern voted for the exemption, he said today the President had told him of various international phases of the question which were not before the Senate when the Panama Canal act was passed. He added he was not prepared to announce his position. Friends of the administration claim he will be among the administration supporters.

House Wants a Message.

House leaders, it was announced today, desire some announcement or message to Congress by the President before reversing themselves on the tolls question, so as to be able to make clear to their constituents that international circumstances had arisen requiring a change.

Representative Underwood, it is understood, while still believing in the tolls exemption, will not organize any opposition to the President in the House.

Representative Palmer, chairman of the Democratic caucus, said today that he had voted against the exemption and would work actively for its repeal.

Henry Offers to Aid President.

Chairman Henry of the House Rules Committee went to the White House and offered the President his help in expediting both the tolls question and the trust bills. He said he believed both the House and Senate would repeal the exemption clause within the next 60 days, and he expected the trust bills to be out of the House within the next month.

Senators Simmons and Overman talked with the President and, although both voted for the exemption, they said they would change their positions, because they believed the foreign policy required it. Senator Shively of Indiana took the same stand. He also discussed the arbitration treaties and assured the President he expected little difficulty in having them ratified.

Twelve days after she was picked up unconscious, on the pavement in front of her home, 3623 Barracks street, Mrs. Katie Schramm, 49 years old, died at the city hospital Wednesday morning, not having regained consciousness.

Mrs. Schramm was found lying on the sidewalk, Feb. 7, and taken into her residence. Later she was sent to the hospital. There Dr. Fred Hagler stated that she suffered from a severe bruise on the right side of the face, and a possible fracture of the skull. It is thought she slipped and fell on the sidewalk. An autopsy will be held.

Enjoy a PLAYER-PIANO FREE In Your Own Home

An opportunity to buy 250 World's Standard Player-Pianos at an inside price was offered us. We took advantage of the offer. Now we find we haven't the room in our warerooms for all of them, so we want to loan 100 of them to reliable St. Louis families. The people we loan them to may have the use of the players and 12 rolls of music ABSOLUTELY FREE until such time as we can find room for them. We figure this procedure will save us the expense of another warehouse and that it will also more thoroughly educate 100 families to the great pleasure derived from having a player-piano in the home. It may be we will ask the people to whom we loan them to give them houseroom for five or six months and, maybe, only a couple of months, but understand, please, this is none of these 30-days'-free-trial selling propositions. All you have to do is to take nice care of the instrument. If you will take care of one of them for us address Box A-179, Post-Dispatch.

NOTICE: The player will be delivered to you about Friday or Saturday. A man will come with it to teach you to operate it.

MEXICAN GUARDED TO THWART ATTACK ON O'SHAUGHNESSY

Editor, Who Threatened to Kill American, Watched on U. S. Protest.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 19.—Protests said to have been made to Gen. Huerta by the United States through the Mexican Embassy at Washington, have resulted in Diaz Miron, manager of El Imparcial, being placed under police surveillance lest he carry out a threat to kill American Charge d'Affaires Nelson O'Shaughnessy.

Miron became greatly incensed at representations laid before the Foreign Office here by O'Shaughnessy, in the matter of scurrilous personal attacks on President Wilson, printed by El Imparcial following the removal of the embargo on the shipment of arms. In the presence of several reporters, Miron is said to have threatened to shoot O'Shaughnessy on sight.

This threat was not taken seriously either by O'Shaughnessy or anyone else, but the story told here is that the incident came to the attention of the State Department, which deemed it of sufficient gravity to justify lodging a protest through the Mexican Embassy at Washington. Algara A. R. de Terraros, the Charge, is said to have been summoned before President Wilson, who signified in strong terms his displeasure at Miron's conduct.

Regardless of the fact that El Imparcial is a Government organ and Miron an ardent Huertista and the offensive articles were printed with the full knowledge and consent of the Government, it is declared that on receipt of President Wilson's protest Miron was reprimanded. For several days he has been accompanied at night by a detail of secret service.

Bandit Castillo and Aids on Way to El Paso.

HACHITA, N. M., Feb. 19.—Maximo Castillo, the captured Mexican bandit, and those taken with him were placed in a separate coach and are now on their way to El Paso by train. It was planned at first, to take a train which would have reached the city this morning, but it was deemed wiser not to risk the night ride and the numerous local stops.

There were rumors that an attempt might be made by Castillo's friends, to hold up the train, but these were not taken seriously.

Andrew Carnegie Has Made No Overtures.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Andrew Carnegie was asked today regarding a rumor in Mexico City that an emissary sent by him was urging the resignation of Gen. Huerta.

On the bottom of the note sent in to Mr. Carnegie, he penciled this reply:

"No truth in this. Mr. Carnegie knows better than to interfere in family quarrels, the result of which is that both parties turn upon the intruder. A. C."

NEGRO SHOT BY CAR CONDUCTOR GETS $2500

United Railways Held Liable for Damages by Verdict in Saunders Suit.

A jury in Judge McQuillin's court Wednesday held the United Railways liable for the shooting by Conductor Pugh of William Saunders, a negro, and returned a verdict for $2500 damages in favor of the latter.

Saunders was shot in the head July 22 last at Laclede and Compton avenues. The negro was driving a street flushing wagon, and Pugh, a conductor on the Laclede line, became incensed when the flow of water from the flusher washed sand into a switch and prevented his throwing it. He said when he protested the negro splashed water on him.

In a quarrel which followed the negro was shot. Pugh was arrested and was acquitted in the Criminal Court.

Saunders sued the United Railways for $10,000. The bullet, he said, is still in his head.

The Sunday Post-Dispatch has over ONE-HALF MILLION more readers than any other newspaper west of the Mississippi.

Map of Eighteenth Ward and Its Delegate Who Supports A. & M. Free Bridge Grab

EIGHTEENTH WARD VOTERS NOW FOR REBER APPROACH

THOS M. BYRNE

The Post-Dispatch is printing from day to day maps of the city's 28 wards that voters all over town may know who their respective Delegates are and whether their views on the free bridge question are represented or misrepresented in the House.

The Eighteenth Ward's representative in the House of Delegates is Thomas M. Byrne, a Democrat. Byrne is a blacksmith at 3001 Easton avenue, and resides at 2148 Cass avenue.

He is one of the 22 obstructionists in the House, who voted against a submission of a bond issue to complete the free bridge by building the Reber approach, and who is standing with 16 other Democrats and five Republicans for the A. & M. approach, promoted by East St. Louis real estate speculators, who admit they expect to make an enormous profit if their approach is adopted.

In one of the three elections held to vote bonds for the completion of the bridge, the Eighteenth Ward gave a majority for the bonds, though it did not give the required two-thirds vote. The vote in 1911 was 969 for the bonds and 912 against them. At the special election in August, 1912, the vote was 1117 for and 1120 against the bonds, and in the November, 1912, election, the vote was 1621 for and 1939 against the bonds.

Ward's Sentiment Changes.

Property owners and business men residing in the ward told a Post-Dispatch reporter that they were confident the sentiment at this time among the voters of the ward was that the bridge should be completed and that if a bond issue proposition to build the Reber approach should be submitted in the immediate future, it would carry in the ward.

Frederick L. Westerbeck of 2233 St. Louis avenue, president of the Columbia Can Co., 128 Madison street, advocates the Reber approach.

"The uncompleted bridge is costing St. Louis a great deal of money every day," he said, "and its speedy completion is demanded by every interest of the city. From a standpoint of economy we cannot afford to let all that money represented by the uncompleted bridge lie idle. I am satisfied there is not a man in business in St. Louis who would permit such a condition to exist in his business.

"Here St. Louis has spent $3,500,000 for the bridge. Our property is taxed to pay the interest on these bonds, and we are not deriving one cent of return for the investment. I say we should complete the bridge.

"However, we should not think of spending one and one-half millions more to complete it than is necessary. The Reber approach, from all the information I can gather, meets all the requirements of a suitable approach. I believe the people want the bridge completed, but I do not believe they will place on themselves an extra burden such as the A. & M. approach would be."

Recent Convert to Bridge.

Henry L. Pollvogt of the Horner Mantel Co., 1120 Market street, until a few months ago a resident of the Eighteenth Ward, is a recent convert to the free bridge bond issue.

"I have been opposed to the building of the free bridge and voted against it," he told a Post-Dispatch reporter. "However, I now believe that it should be completed, and will vote and do all in my power to aid in the passage of a bond issue to build the Reber approach.

"I am satisfied that there are a great many people in St. Louis who have also opposed bonds in the past, but who would now be glad of an opportunity to vote for them. The Reber approach, in my opinion, is the only approach which would satisfy the public. From talks I have had with people I am convinced that the A. & M. proposition would be overwhelmingly defeated. We need men in the House of Delegates who will be unselfishly for the public interest.

"I cannot see any reason for going far out of the way with an approach, such as the route of the A. & M. is. Let us have the Reber approach, and finish the bridge. The House of Delegates should give the people an opportunity to vote on this, but it seems that body is beyond all reach of reason."

Sentiment for Reber Approach.

A. R. Kopf, a druggist at Twenty-second street and St. Louis avenue, said that the people whom he overhears talking in his store seemed to be all for the completion of the bridge, and that they favored the Reber approach.

"They do not want to spend any more money than is necessary," he said, "but there seems to be a universal demand for the commerce which would pass over the bridge, it should be built, and one which would cost several millions more should be rejected.

"One never understands the mysterious ways in which politicians move, and the present House of Delegates seems to be no exception to the rule."

John F. Byrne, Democratic committeeman from the Eighteenth Ward, a brother of the member of the House, in a recent statement to a Post-Dispatch reporter, refused to announce a position regarding the approaches. He expressed the opinion that the members of the House were competent to handle the matter, though he said he favored completing the bridge.

MUSTEROLE

Defy Blood Disorder BY Giving the Blood an Effective Bath

The word Medicine is one of the most abused in our language. There are certain medicinal properties just as necessary to health as the food we eat. Take, for example, the well-known medicine S. S. S. This famous blood purifier contains medicinal components just as vital and essential to healthy blood as the elements of wheat, roast beef, the fats and the sugars that make up our daily ration.

As a matter of fact, there is one ingredient in S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating each cellular part of the body to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. That is why it regenerates the blood supply; why it has such a tremendous influence in overcoming Rheumatism, Catarrh of the Stomach and Intestines, skin eruptions and all blood troubles.

And in regenerating the tissues S. S. S. has a rapid and positive antiseptic effect upon all those irritating influences that cause sore throat, weak eyes, loss of weight, thin, pale cheeks and that weariness of muscle and nerve that leads so many people into the dangerous path of stimulants and narcotics.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store, and in a few days you will feel bright and energetic. S. S. S. is prepared only in the laboratory of the Swift Specific Co., 608 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., who maintain a very efficient advisory department where all who have any blood disorder of a stubborn nature may consult freely.

S. S. S. is sold everywhere by drug stores, department and general stores.

Don't permit anyone to sell you a substitute. Insist upon S. S. S.

6 LAMBS BORN IN PARK

Herd at Forest Park Is Increased to 18.

The Forest Park herd of sheep has increased from 12 to 18 in the last week. About a year ago the Park Department purchased a small herd of sheep to feed on the grass in inaccessible parts of the park. The experiment proved successful, for not only has the grass been kept trimmed, but the herd has increased in size. Six lambs have been born in the last week.

Herds will be placed in the other parks this summer.

STONE SLATED TO SUCCEED BACON AS COMMITTEE HEAD

Missourian Next in Line for Foreign Affairs Chairmanship; Caucus Probable.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Reorganization of several Senate committees may be necessary because of the death of Senator Bacon, who was chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations. There is a Committee on Committees, whose duty it is to look after such matters, but in a case as important as this, a Democratic caucus probably will be called. Such a caucus is expected to be held next week.

It is assumed that Senator Stone will succeed to the vacant chairmanship not only because he is the ranking member of the Foreign Relations Committee, but because he is believed to desire the place. Senator Stone is ill at present, and Senator Shively of Indiana is acting as chairman of the committee.

Should Senator Stone be appointed to this chairmanship the Committee on Indian Affairs, of which he is now chairman, would be left without a head. The ranking member of that committee is Senator Myers, but he is chairman of the Committee on Public Lands and might not care to change. If he should not, the next ranking member of the committee is Senator Ashurst. He is chairman of the Committee on Industrial Expositions. There would then have to be settled the question as to who would succeed him.

If Senator Myers preferred to give up his present chairmanship for that of the Committee on Indian Affairs, Senator Smith of Arizona, the ranking member of the committee, probably would succeed him. He is now chairman of the Committee on Irrigation and Reclamation of Arid Lands. Senator Lane is the ranking member of that committee, and he now is chairman of the Committee of Forest Reservation and protecting of game.

Almost any change suggested would necessitate so many other shifts that the entire subject probably will be submitted to caucus for adjustment.

FAMILY SLEEPS WHILE WOMAN FIGHTS BURGLAR

Noise Awakens Mrs. Frances Ganss, Who Upon Arising, Is Attacked by Intruder.

Mrs. Frances Ganss, an elderly woman, wife of George Ganss of 4922 Laclede avenue, was awakened by a noise in her bedroom at 3 a. m. Thursday. Upon arising, she was attacked by a burglar, who, after a struggle in the dark, fled with two overcoats.

Mrs. Ganss' daughter, Anna, with whom she slept, and her husband and son, in an adjoining room, slumbered during the struggle.

Mrs. Ganss said she was struck on the forehead by a weapon. Stunned, she groped toward an electric light switch, but was seized by her assailant. She struggled and he threw her off and fled.

$1375 FOR LITTLE FINGER

Verdict for Widow Against Her Next Door Neighbors.

Mrs. Bridget Fahey, a widow, of 4551 West Papin street, won a verdict for $1375.25 against her next-door neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Godfrey of 4547 West Papin street, in Judge Kinsey's court, Wednesday. She sued for $5370, alleging damages received in a fight between her and the Godfreys, May 19, last.

She said Mrs. Godfrey attacked her with a brick and that Godfrey joined in the attack. As a result, of the plaintiff's injuries blood poison developed, it was alleged, and it became necessary to amputate the little finger of her left hand. It was admitted the trouble started because of a piece of tin thrown by a workman from Mrs. Fahey's house to the Godfrey premises and Mrs. Godfrey threw it back. According to the Godfreys, they acted in self-defense.

MRS. BAHRENBURG FINDS BEER WAS SOLD TO CHILD

Belleville Leader Gets Saloon Keeper to Promise Not to Do It Again.

While Mrs. Carrie Alexander Bahrenburg, president of the Belleville Civic League, was motoring past Gus Ehret's saloon, Second and Abend streets, Belleville, with her husband, Dr. William Bahrenburg, Thursday morning, she saw an 8-year-old girl coming out of the saloon with a bucket of beer.

Mrs. Bahrenburg had her machine stopped, and asked the child if she had purchased the beer in Ehret's saloon. When the child said yes, Mrs. Bahrenburg took her by the arm, led her back into the bar and asked Ehret:

"Did you sell this beer to this child?"

"Yes," Ehret answered.

"Don't you know it is against the law?" Mrs. Bahrenburg asked.

"Yes," Ehret answered again.

On Ehret's promise never to sell liquor to minors again, she promised she would not have him prosecuted in this case.

Recently the Belleville Civic League went on record as favoring the enforcement of the state law prohibiting the sale of liquor to minors, which has been regarded as a dead letter in Belleville.

FINED FOR DISTURBANCE IN NEWSPAPER OFFICE

Owen Pickett Accused of Becoming Abusive When Denied Use of Telephone.

Owen Pickett, 31 years old, of 1900 Division street, a boiler maker, was fined $10 by Judge Kimmel in the Municipal Police Court Thursday morning for disturbing the peace in the editorial rooms of the New St. Louis Star last Saturday.

Frank Taylor, city editor of the paper, testified that at 4 o'clock, when the staff was busy getting out an edition, Pickett entered the local room and started to use one of the booth telephones. Taylor said he told him the office was using it, and that he would have to get out of the way. Pickett then replied that he "would get him" and used abusive language, Taylor said.

On the stand Pickett said he meant that he would take the matter to law, as he wanted to telephone a physician for his sick sister. Pickett appealed the case.

HOSPITALS TO GET RADIUM FROM 150 TONS OF ORE

Pitchblende, Containing Salts Estimated to Be Worth $360,000 Is Being Reduced.

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 19.—The treatment of 150 tons of pitchblende from a Colorado mine was begun here today to extract its radium contents.

Hospitals are to receive the refined product. None of the product is to be sold, according to instructions received here from A. I. Dupont of New Jersey, owner of the ore.

The value of the radium contents cannot be estimated except on the speculative basis that two tons of the ore will produce the equivalent of 1.05 grams of radium salts. On this basis the ore would have a value of about $360,000.

DASHING CAPTAIN IN "CAMPUS MOUSER"

MARY COLT as CAPTAIN PEACOCK.

CAMPUS MOUSER TO BE PRESENTED AT ODEON TONIGHT

Society Belles and Beaux to Take Part in Play for Charity.

Valets and maids are in demand by the principals of the Campus Mouser show, which has its opening performance at the Odeon Thursday night, and will be repeated Friday night and Saturday matinee. Some stunning costumes will be worn and the lightning changes require several hands. There are 200 persons in the cast.

Miss Minnie Potter, in the tile role, first appears in Turkish trousers and ill-fitting coat, and next in a split skirt that reveals the trousers beneath. It is not until she falls a victim to the charms of Malcolm, the college Adonis, that she affects a parasol. A diminutive sized one is used, more often to flirt and coquette with than as a shield against the strong calcium light, for she is not afraid to reveal her charms to the full gaze of the audience. Her song hit will be "I Want Someone to Call Me Dovey."

Miss Mary Colt, as Capt. Peacock, military star, wears a natty suit of white. Miss Capen, as the society star, makes a number of quick changes, and the services of several of the chorus are required to get her in and out of her clothes with dispatch.

Costumes ranging from simple creations of cotton crepe to most elaborate evening gowns are shown in the special song and dance numbers composed of from two to 12 couples. Bright colors grouped in the ensemble create a picture of a cubist garden.

The three performances of Campus Mouser are for the benefit of Ridge Farm of the St. Louis Children's Hospital. The hospital cared for 5182 children last year. Ridge Farm is the country department where children are transferred during convalescence and to gain strength for operations.

A new fireproof building will be erected to replace the present frame structure at Ridge Farm, and it is for the purpose of raising funds to equip this building and furthering the work of the institution that the play is being given.

Children to Benefit Her Morals.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—In the hopes that the companionship of her six children would have a beneficial effect on her morals, officials of the Morals Court ordered that Mrs. Juanita Trabia, 25 years old, be sent back to her home in St. Louis, where the children are being cared for. Her seventh child, 13 months old, returned with her. Mrs. Trabia has been arrested three times since she came here three months ago.

WIRELESS SEARCHES SEA FOR DISABLED SCHOONER

Revenue Cutters and Steamers Also Look for the Kineo Off Atlantic Coast.

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 19.—Wireless calls swept over the sea from the radio towers on the Middle Atlantic Coast but revenue cutters and numbers of steamships today found no trace of the five-masted schooner Kineo of Bath, Me., last reported yesterday in a disabled condition and taking in 2 inches of water an hour.

The schooner with her crew of 11 had been in ill luck for the last month. Twice her sails were blown away and once she put into port for safety. When she was sighted by the steamer City of Atlanta yesterday it did not seem necessary for the liner to take off her crew. Later the revenue cutter Onondaga began a search. The Kineo was then 160 miles northeast of Diamond Shoals.

CATHERINE WINTERS SAID TO HAVE BEEN FOUND

Child With Alleged Pennsylvania Forger Believed to Be Newcastle Girl.

MIDDLEPORT, O., Feb. 19.—A girl, believed to be Catherine Winters, 12 years old, of Newcastle, Ind., who has been missing from home since last March and for whom a country-wide search has been made, was found today near here. She is said to have been brought hither by Joseph Davis, a carpenter, who is under arrest on a charge of forgery.

Davis is said to have been forced to leave the country because of a charge of "bootlegging" some time ago. A short time ago he returned with the supposed Winters girl, it is said, and took her to the home of relatives in the country near here. She is able to give only a meager account of her experiences.

MANY PERSONS SWINDLED BY FAKE SOLICITOR

Payment of 50 Cents Collected on Electric Iron That Is Never Delivered.

A solicitor claiming to sell electric irons at $2 under the market price, on payment of 50 cents and $1 upon delivery through the Union Electric Light and Power Co., is defrauding many persons, according to Frank D. Beardslee, sales manager for the company.

Beardslee says he has received a number of complaints from persons asking when their $1.50 electric iron, on which they had paid a solicitor 50 cents, was going to be delivered.

"No such orders are being taken by our solicitors," Beardslee said. "All of our representatives either wear badges or carry card of introduction."

PAGEANT BOARD TO ISSUE A CALL FOR COSTUME MAKERS

Hundreds of Amateur Seamstresses Needed to Make Clothes for 7500 Actors.

WORK IS TO BE PAID FOR

Exhibition of Costumes to Be Held March 1, From Which Designs Will Be Chosen.

Sewing bees will become more popular than tango teas in St. Louis within a few weeks, if the pageant management finds the expected response to an appeal which it will soon make for the services of amateur seamstresses as costume makers for the big May drama in Forest Park.

The domestic science students and members of neighborhood sewing societies and church guilds will not be asked to work for nothing. They will be paid for all the work they do, and they will have the opportunity to earn good money for their organizations.

Mrs. Frederick R. von Windegger of Clayton, formerly Miss Marie Peugnet, a member of an old French family, is chairman of the Costumes Committee.

Garments for 7500 Actors.

She said Thursday she would begin the making of the garments to be worn by the 7500 or more actors in the pageant, as soon as the necessary figures from Thomas Wood Stevens, pageant master, are received at pageant headquarters, 730 Century Building.

Professional costume makers will be assigned to the task of making the costumes for the principal characters in the drama. Mrs. von Windegger says she expects to give these costumers all the work they can handle, and to have plenty left for the women's clubs and Dorcas societies beside.

By the time the pageant master informs the committee just how many Spaniards, and trappers, and medicine men it will have to clothe, the committee hopes also to learn from the Cast Committee how many actors will be available for the different parts, and how the sizes in costume requirements will run. In this way, the right number of "perfect 36's" and other models can be made without waste.

Loan Exhibition Announced.

A loan exhibition of costumes has been announced to take place at the Jefferson Memorial beginning March 1, and persons who own clothing of the period covered by the action of the pageant, between the days of the mound builders and the Civil War period, will be asked to loan them for the exhibition. Several patriotic societies have arranged to loan valued articles, but the committee believes many persons not members of such societies own objects which would be of interest. Not only finery, but the plain clothing of plain people in the old days is desired. The committee is particularly desirous of showing shoes of early periods.

A costume "tryout" with some costumes which have been made up from the prize-winning designs, to see how they would look, will be given on the pageant site in Forest Park the afternoon of Feb. 27, if the snow is off the ground by that time.

Pageant Makers to Meet in New York for Three-Day Conference.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Pageant makers who include playwrights, composers, authors, painters and artists from all parts of the country will assemble here on Saturday under the auspices of the American Pageant Association for a conference of three days in connection with the meeting of the Columbia University Institute of Arts.

At the conference an exhibit of pageant material is to be given. This will present to public view for the first time, it is said, all important collections of pageant books, posters, folders and models.

In this collection will be the working model for the pageant and masque at St. Louis next May, of which Percy Mackaye and Thomas Wood Stevens are the directors.

Read the Distribution Plan to Get the Old, Old Songs.

Besides giving the public a chance to sing the old songs, the songs that never grow old, the Post-Dispatch's offer by coupon subscriptions to these books is also a campaign of education. Within the covers of these books are to be found a heap of history, valuable pictures of song birds, etc. The books are offered in two prices, with coupons, one at 79 cents and the other at 49 cents. The only difference between the two is in the binding.

So Easy to Make Snow-Mellow

For Cake Filling, Meringues for Pies, Puddings and Desserts.

First. Heat bowl very hot with boiling water.

Second. Wipe bowl dry. Do not allow bowl to get cool.

Third. Put into hot bowl, four tablespoonfuls of very hot water, not scalding, but hot as will bear finger.

Fourth. Now put in one scraped off LEVEL tablespoonful of Snow-Mellow.

Fifth. Stir quickly until Snow-Mellow is dissolved in the water—and then begin beating quickly and thoroughly just as you would the whites of eggs.

Sixth. Continue the beating until you have a dry, choppy meringue. The longer you beat Snow-Mellow before adding the sugar, [see eighth paragraph] the stiffer and better it gets. Success is sure, making Snow-Mellow stand up firm, if you beat it three or four minutes, till it gets very dry and choppy before adding the sugar.

Seventh. Flavor with one teaspoonful of vanilla, or other desired flavor, beating the flavoring into the Snow-Mellow.

Eighth. Now, after the flavored Snow-Mellow is beaten very stiff, add ½ cup of granulated sugar in the following manner. Beat in gradually ½ of the quantity of sugar, and fold or lift in the remainder of the sugar. Now Snow-Mellow is done. Do not beat or stir Snow-Mellow after folding in the last of the sugar, because further beating would soften it.

How to Use as Cake Filling.

Have the cake layers cool, then spread Snow-Mellow, made as above, as thick on the layers as desired and set aside for a few moments to stiffen, after which build up the layers and spread Snow-Mellow around the sides of the cake. Use a knife to spread the Snow-Mellow smooth and even. Dust top and sides of finished cake with powdered sugar and cornstarch, mixed in the proportion of 4-5 sugar and 1-5 cornstarch, or sprinkle thickly with shredded cocoanut. Allow cake to stand long enough to stiffen and become cool all through, before cutting. Use thin, sharp knife, wiping knife off after every few cuts.

Make a quantity of the dusting powder for future use. It will not lump. Use sifter to mix well.

How to Make Boiled Snow-Mellow Icing.

Make Snow-Mellow same as No. 1 before sugar is added. Then instead of adding sugar, make syrup as follows: One-third cup water, 1½ cups granulated sugar; boil to soft ball or string, then pour slowly into the Snow-Mellow, beating all the while and continue beating after the syrup is all in. The stiffer the syrup is made, the stiffer will be the icing. Add any flavor or color desired. The flavor should not be added until done.

One tablespoonful of Snow-Mellow makes a sumptuous, rich, tender filling standing up half an inch thick between the layers of your cake.

But to make this amazing quantity of delicious Snow-Mellow, you must use our Special Snow-Mellow Beater. And we will give you this Special Snow-Mellow Beater, 12 inches long, nickel plated—Absolutely Free.

So that you may use this wonderful, exquisite Snow-Mellow to save yourself the expense of eggs, and the expense of whipped cream—so that you may delight your family with these many new Snow-Mellow desserts—you may have absolutely FREE one of these specially designed dessert beaters, which beats up a bowl full of delicious, snowy meringue from just one tablespoonful of Snow-Mellow.

Imagine snow-flakes crystalized from richest cream and flavored with marshmallow made by the Fairies. That is Snow-Mellow. Imagine such a gift from nature served on lady fingers or with sliced bananas! Or just think of a heaping dish of this wonderful dessert richly covered with cherries or raspberries or chopped nut-meats or sliced fruits or apple sauce. There hasn't yet been found any way to tell you how good Snow-Mellow is.

Snow-Mellow has about the consistency of very rich, thick whipped cream—but it is somewhat firmer and much more tender and delicate.

The taste of Snow-Mellow is an exclusive taste all its own. We cannot any more describe, in words, the delicious taste of Snow-Mellow than we could describe the taste of a ripe, juicy peach, fresh from the tree. But you may be sure that you all will "just love" Snow-Mellow—all of you, from baby to grandmother.

When you have fresh or preserved fruits, serve Snow-Mellow as a topping on each dish instead of cream.

Probably your folks like cocoa or chocolate—sometimes hot, sometimes cold. For either way, make it with just water and serve a little Snow-Mellow on top of each cup.

It may be your custom to have a big Sunday dinner, including a good home-made pie. Oh, Snow-Mellow on pie! Snow-Mellow makes a tender, thick meringue, that browns in the oven to a rich golden brown, stands up firmly and cuts as smooth and easily as butter. The next time you make pie, be sure it's a Snow-Mellow pie.

So Economical!

We want to explain to you how we have arranged to make Snow-Mellow the most economical of desserts for your table.

In business there is a certain "over-head" charge against each package—packing, wrapping, boxing, cartage, freight, delivery, etc. And here is how we solved the problem of making Snow-Mellow economical for you. The same "overhead" expense that pays for delivering a ten-cent package to you will pay for delivering five or six or seven times that quantity of Snow-Mellow if we put it all in one package. And that is what we have done.

Instead of putting only enough Snow-Mellow for one dessert in a package and charging ten cents—we put seven times that quantity—enough for seven desserts—in one package, and instead of charging you seventy cents, the price is only 25c—because we save for you the cost of packing and delivering the six extra packages. That is the only fair way. For after you once find how easy to make and how good to eat Snow-Mellow is—you will want to serve it in different desserts several times every week.

How Is Your Weight?

While it is true that too much weight is not to be desired yet the fact remains that many men and women are thin to the point of danger. This danger lies in their having no reserve force or nerve power to combat deadly diseases. A little extra flesh is needed by all to feel well and to look well, and this calls up the question of how best to increase the weight. Physicians and chemists, by experiments, have solved the problem of increasing the white and red corpuscles of the blood, by the administration of 3 grain hypo-nuclane tablets, and this is usually followed by an increase of weight. Obtain in sealed packages, and take for a period of several months according to directions with package.—ADVERTISEMENT.

BURKE GETS YEAR IN JAIL FOR KILLING GILES SHOWALTER

Jury Finds Youth, 19, Guilty of Manslaughter in Fourth Degree.

Frank Burke, 19 years old, was found guilty by a jury in Judge Henning's court Thursday of manslaughter in the fourth degree in the killing of Giles Showalter, 18 years old, and his punishment was fixed at a year in the city jail.

Burke lives with his sister, Mrs. Mamie Showalter, 2924 Chouteau avenue. He and his sister and her husband, Walter Babbitt, Henry Barnaman, Charles Morgan and William Fite were sitting on the front steps on the evening of July 31, when Showalter, David Norton and Fred Albright passed. Burke and Showalter had had trouble two weeks before, when Showalter had accused Burke of taking some of Showalter's clothes.

Norton and Albright testified that someone called Showalter. He went to the steps and he and Barnaman began to fight. Showalter knocked Barnaman against the wall. Burke, it was testified, ran into the house and reappeared with a revolver and shot Showalter from the top of the steps, at a distance of 12 feet.

Burke and his friends testified that Showalter went to the steps without being called and attacked Burke. Burke said he saw something in Showalter's hand which he thought was a knife. Burke went inside the house and obtained the revolver from a dresser and said he fired as Showalter was two feet from him and advancing upon him.

Showalter's shirt was not powder-burned. Assistant Circuit Attorney Arnold made a test by firing at a "dummy" during a recess of court Wednesday evening at a distance of two feet. The shirt was powder-burned. By this means he attempted to convince the jury that Showalter was more than two feet away when he was shot.

The case went to the jury at 7:30 p. m. A verdict was reached at 11:30. It was read when court convened at 12 a. m. Thursday.

Burke was first tried two months ago. The jury at that trial failed to agree.

MAN TRACKED IN SNOW AFTER FALSE FIRE ALARM

Jeremiah Murphy Is Arrested Block Away From Box; Denies He Is Guilty.

Three fire engine companies responded to a false alarm sounded from the box at the southeast corner of Page boulevard and Sarah street at 12:30 a. m. Thursday. The snow had been falling for more than an hour and the firemen traced fresh footprints from the box to the house at 4007 Cook avenue, more than a block away.

Jeremiah Murphy, 26 years old, a candy jobber, living at the Cook avenue address, chanced to be standing on his front steps when the investigating firemen and three policemen arrived. He denied having sounded the alarm, but was arrested.

At the Deer Street Station Murphy again denied having sounded the false alarm. He told Lieut. Mansfield that he had just returned home from a theater party.

Kemper Wills, 16 years old, of 4489 Gibson avenue, signing himself "Mike, the Black Hand leader," write a letter to Mrs. Alexander Wanner, who lives upstairs, demanding $3 on "pain of death," and landed in the House of Detention. The boy is a son of Elisha E. Wills, a railroad conductor, who says the youth is incorrigible. The mother says the boy obtained his black hand ambitions from moving pictures.

The letter sent to Mrs. Wanner told her to place $3 under the "seller door," and that she would be "shot down like a dog" if she attempted to leave the house to warn the police. Mrs. Wanner, however, told the police, and the arrest followed.

HOW TO GET RID OF YOUR SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

I Cured Mine by a Simple, Safe, Harmless Treatment Which Can be Used at Home with Complete Success, Age and Sex-gitr No Obstacle.

Prominent Lady Offers to Tell Her Secret FREE

I am a woman who belongs to a family whose women members have been especially addicted to superfluous hair. Before I was 25 I developed a horrid case of hair growth, which quite spoiled my life. I TRIED ALL SORTS of advertised remedies, but met with DISAPPOINTMENT ONLY. I suffered the needle without success. And at last I decided it was no use to try any more. It almost made up my mind to give up my social activities for good, as I was so ASHAMED of my blemish. One day I mentioned my resolve to an intimate friend, a professional man, who gave me the name and address of a great scientific chemist in London, who was said to have invented a new treatment which was a great success. I replied that I had tried so many things I was not going to be humbugged again, but my friend pointed out that the inventor was everywhere recognized as a really FAMOUS CHEMIST OF EMINENT STANDING, who, as Professor of Chemistry at a leading University, had been honored by the leading Scientific Institutes of Chemistry in the world.

So I sent for the method, and after some hesitation tried it. The result was indeed a pleasure and a surprise. The Hair disappeared at once, and, after a little further use never came back. Undoubtedly the ROOTS WERE KILLED. It was wonderful—so unexpectedly satisfactory, indeed, after all my previous disappointments that I began to wonder if mine were an unusual case. So I submitted the preparation to a reliable PHYSICIAN of integrity and good position, and asked for his candid opinion. After testing it, he wrote me that he saw no reason why it should not be a universal success, as the Great English Chemist had indeed solved the problem of REACHING THE ROOTS.

And so I have decided to put my prize into my pocket and to give my secret to the world by telling the facts to all other women that they, too, may secure the same successful results. If you are a sufferer from Superfluous Hair, whether on face, neck, arms or any other part of the body, I will tell you the secret of my success and happiness FREE, and I will ask that you have full particulars without delay of how I succeeded in destroying all signs of my hair growth so that they NEVER RETURNED. When writing, please send two-cent stamp or stamped addressed envelope and address your letter to Mrs. Kathryn Jenkins, Box 895, B. T. No. 244 Purchase Street, Boston, Mass.

NOTE—Mrs. Jenkins for years was a well-known member of society at Scranton, Pa., and much given to philanthropic endeavor. The chemist she refers to is widely known as a man of learning and integrity, and one of England's leading Scientific Chemists of the highest standing. All readers of this paper who have been disappointed with ordinary depilatories and advertised remedies should write to her at once. Her address is Mrs. Jenkins, Box 895, B. T., No. 244 Purchase Street, Boston, Mass.—ADV.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 19.—Matt Booth, a Nickel Plate yard engineer at Conneaut, O., claims that he has often seen English sparrows place grains of corn that had fallen from cars on the rails before his engine so that the grains might be crushed and thus reduced to a meal easy for the birds to swallow.

SEEKS TO DIVORCE WOMAN DYING WIFE ASKED HIM TO WED

Oklahoma City Jeweler Renews Legislation, Charging Undue Influence.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Feb. 19.—Dissatisfied with the action of the court in their divorce troubles, both J. F. Hartwell and his wife, Mrs. Jeanette Hartwell, have renewed their litigation. They have been prominent for years in local society. Hartwell was a pioneer jeweler and acquired a fortune in his business and in real estate speculation.

Mrs. Hartwell says her husband is worth $150,000, and in her petition for divorce asked for her share of his property. Judge W. R. Taylor, in the District Court, refused to grant a decree of divorce, but awarded Mrs. Hartwell the sum of $35,000, which was principally in diamonds. Both principals refused to abide by this decision.

In his answer to his wife's petition, Hartwell said that he loved her, and was still willing to live with her. He attributed her estrangement to the solicitation of her sister, Mrs. Dona Sosa.

Mrs. Hartwell filed a sensational answer, in which she charged her husband with improper relations with a servant girl. Hartwell made a complete denial and offered evidence to support his statement.

In answering his wife's latest petition, Hartwell is no longer amicable. He recites that he married her on the deathbed request of his former wife, an aunt of the present Mrs. Hartwell, and that the dying wife was influenced in making this request by Mrs. Hartwell and her mother. He filed a cross bill for divorce.

ELOPES WITH GIRL HE COURTED IN BUSCH AUTO

Jacob P. Maher, Chauffeur, a Catholic, Marries Miss Eva Cohn, a Jewess.

One of August A. Busch's automobiles was the trysting place in which his chauffeur, Jacob P. Maher, pursued his courtship of Miss Eva Cohn of 2646A Chouteau avenue, with whom he eloped Wednesday afternoon and to whom he was married in a Catholic parish house. Maher is a Catholic and his bride is a Jewess.

Her mother, Mrs. A. Cohn, said Thursday Maher frequently had called for her daughter with the Busch car and had taken her out driving. Because of religious differences, the bride's father and mother opposed the marriage and forbade their daughter to receive Maher's attentions. According to Mrs. Cohn, the girl then met him at the home of a friend.

Mrs. Cohn said she and her husband would never forgive their daughter for marrying a Gentile and that they would not receive her at home again. Mrs. Maher is 22 years of age and her husband is a year older.

MIDSHIPMAN'S DISMISSAL APPROVED BY PRESIDENT

Charges of Irregularities in Examination Against Kansan Are Upheld.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Dismissal of Midshipman V. I. McClure of Iola, Kan., from the Naval Academy, on charges of irregularities in an examination was approved today by President Wilson. The case of two midshipmen implicated with him were not acted upon.

Secretary Daniels did not recommend the dismissal of Midshipmen MacBowan of Maine and Bungert of New Jersey, who were implicated with McClure, because he held there was not sufficient evidence against them. Letters of admonition will be addressed to them.

In his recommendation to the President, Secretary Daniels declared he was satisfied with the evidence to support the charge of "gouging" against McClure.

While cleaning the snow off Meramec avenue, Clayton, Thursday morning, Theodore Bing, 24 years old, a prisoner serving a year's jail sentence for burglary in Webster Groves, edged away from his fellow-prisoners, made a dash for liberty, and before Jailer George Kern could stop him, had turned into Carondelet avenue, westward bound.

Kern fired a shot and called to Deputy Sheriff Andrew Shores, who was standing in Judge McElhinney's court. Shores and three others took up the pursuit, and after a quarter-mile chase through the snow Binz was captured on the Clayton car line. He was placed in the Clayton dungeon.

The Home Beauty Parlor

by Betty Dean

June: The "French complexion fad" you inquire about is probably the craze for liquid powders. They are thought to be more wholesome for the skin, as well as more beautifying and less likely to show, than ordinary powder. The following preparation can be made at home from ingredients to be purchased from any druggist. Get 4 ounces spurmax from your druggist, dissolve in one-half pint hot water and add two teaspoons glycerine. It is splendid in effect, looks very natural and clings as if it belonged to your skin.

Lilly: You will find shampooing with a teaspoonful canthrox dissolved in a cup hot water is a quick and pleasing way to free the scalp of dust, dandruff and excess oil. This is a cleanser and invigorator most appreciated by one whose scalp is either dry, scaly and itchy or profusely oily. Its use restored healthful vigor to my scalp and induced the hair to come in plentifully, with a gloss, and greatly enriched color.

Bess: The best blood-cleanser I know is kardene because it acts on the liver and kidneys and if, as you say, you are troubled with severe and constant headaches, it is an indication that your kidneys and blood need attention. To prepare, put one ounce kardene (from the drug store) into one-half pint alcohol (whisky should not be used), then add one-half cupful sugar and hot water to make a full quart. A tablespoonful before meals is the dose. This kardene tonic gently expels poisonous waste from the body and tones up the internal organs so they can do their work. You will find this tonic good for lost appetite, failing strength, and to clear up the complexion.

Lorelei: Even the woman of middle age nowadays is determined to keep her flesh down and who can blame her, now that present styles demand slimness? I always recommended parnotis (which I mix up at home) as the safest, cheapest and best flesh-reducer. Get four ounces parnotis at druggist's and dissolve in one and one-half pints hot water. Cool, strain and take a tablespoonful before each meal. Dieting or exercise is not necessary with this.

Mrs. S.: My own experience with wrinkles was three years ago, when I removed them with a very simple, inexpensive preparation which I made by mixing an ounce of almozoin (from my druggist's) in one-half pint cold water and adding two teaspoonfuls glycerine. This, by contracting the skin slowly, restores healthy firmness and keeps the surface circulation of the blood so good that a perfectly natural glow develops in the cheeks. I have used it ever since.

Madge: No, you need not have lots of money in order to give your hair and scalp perfect care. I often recommend many made-at-home items which are even better than high-priced patents. As a hair tonic I get an ounce of quinzoin at the druggist's, dissolve it in one-half pint of water. Rub a little at a time well into the scalp and your dandruff will disappear and you will keep your scalp healthy.

Exie: I brighten my eyes and rest them when tired by putting a few drops of crystos solution into each and bathing the lids with the same. I make the tonic by getting an ounce of crystos from the drug store and dissolving it in a pint of clear water. It will not smart and is soothing and healing. It is the safest way of making the eyes sparkling and expressive.

Simple Home Treatment For Superfluous Hairs

(Beauty Culture)

A very effective and simple home treatment for superfluous hairs is as follows: Mix into a paste enough powdered delatone and water to cover the hairy surface, apply and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every trace of hair has disappeared. This method is devoid of pain or danger and leaves the skin free from spot or blemish. Best results naturally follow when the delatone is purchased in an original package because its strength and purity are then assured.—ADV.

MUTUAL DIVORCE GRANTED IN PARIS TO THE MACKAYS

Suits Abroad Appear to Have Been by Agreement; Both Charged Desertion.

CHILDREN TO FATHER

Decree Follows Mrs. Blake's Dropping of $1,000,000 Action Against Mrs. Mackay.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The announcement today that Clarence H. Mackay, financier and president of the Postal Telegraph Cable Co., and Catherine Duer Mackay, his wife, had been granted a mutual divorce by the French Courts in Paris on Feb. 11, came as a surprise, not because it was unexpected, but because of the place and manner in which the decree was granted. For many months the couple had been living apart and society's only query was when a suit for divorce would be filed.

It was thought Portland, Me., would be the place, as Mrs. Mackay leased a house and established a residence there, but early in the year she left her Maine home for Paris and soon thereafter her husband appeared in the French capital.

There were rumors of a reconciliation then but these were denied by Mackay. It now appears that the trip of the two to Europe was in accordance with a plan agreed upon when the separation suit of Mrs. Joseph A. Blake against Dr. Joseph A. Blake, the famous surgeon, was decided in the wife's favor without contest and Mrs. Blake dropped her suit for $1,000,000 against Mrs. Mackay for alleged alienation of Dr. Blake's affections.

Counsel for both Mr. and Mrs. Mackay made announcement of the mutual divorce last night. The statements recited that both sides charged desertion, Mrs. Mackay filing suit first.

Mackay followed with a contest suit. The decree, it was stated, gave the custody of the couple's three children to Mackay with the right to visit them accorded to Mrs. Mackay. Mutual divorces, it was explained, were permissible under the French law.

Although the Paris court delivered its judgment granting the mutual divorce a week ago, the verdict has not yet been docked. Attorneys of Mackay, in confirming the news of the divorce, would give no details. The French newspapers are forbidden by law to publish reports of divorce suits.

Jurisdiction in France.

It was also explained that the French courts had jurisdiction, as both parties to the suit had apartments in Paris for a considerable time.

In this connection a report was published here that Mrs. Mackay had renounced her American citizenship in order to bring the suit, but this was not confirmed.

No mention was made in the lawyers' statements of any financial settlement. Monetary matters were arranged, it is understood, a year ago, when Mrs. Mackay signed over her title to the magnificent estate at Roslyn, L. I., to her son. This estate was given to her by her father-in-law, the late John W. Mackay of Bonanza fame. From an authoritative source, it is stated that Mackay has settled upon his former wife an annuity of about $25,000, which expires at her death. She has an income of $5000 a year from her personal estate.

Mackay, who is in town, with two of his children, the eldest being at school in Connecticut, had nothing to add to the story told by the attorneys. Mrs. Mackay was still in Paris.

Inherited Nearly $30,000,000.

Clarence H. Mackay is 40 years of age. He inherited nearly $30,000,000 from his father. Since he came into his patrimony, 12 years ago, the head of the vast Mackay properties is said to have almost doubled their worth.

He married Catherine Duer in 1898. She is the descendant of an old Knickerbocker family, and the social prominence she gained through her beauty and charm as the mistress of the Mackay fortune was added to by her ability as a writer and her interests in sociological and educational problems. In 1904 she published a novel called "The Stone of Destiny." The Mackay children are Catherine, 4; Ellin, 10, and John William, 6.

For years after the marriage it was looked upon in society as an ideal one, and the two took a leading part in the more serious activities that their positions opened to them. Mackay did much for grand opera in this country and his wife found time among her other interests to support the woman's suffrage movement, from which she retired about the time the first reports came out regarding a breach in the family relations.

HOLY ROLLERS, IN FEAR OF A MOB, REMAIN IN JAIL

NEWTON, Ill., Feb. 19.—Several of the Holy Rollers, convicted and fined here for the part they took in an attempt to "beat sin and the devil" out of two boys who were said to have been lacking in faith, are remaining in jail, waiting for the feeling against them, which has been manifest in a mob attempt and the burning of their church, to subside.

The destruction of their edifice, the Springs Holiness Church, early yesterday morning was the last open outbreak against them. It is believed here that the mob which was prevented Tuesday from lynching the pastor of the church set the meeting place on fire.

Fined as Accessories.

The fines are the outgrowth of a special service at the Springs church a week ago, at which, it was alleged, the two boys were tied hand and foot and, after a vote of the congregation, beaten with sticks and leather straps till their backs bled. It was charged that this means was taken of driving "sin and the devil" out of the boys. The boys, 9 and 12 years old, on the witness stand said the sin with which they were charged was failure to attend church regularly.

Mrs. Rosa Deck, Frank Emery and his wife, Allen Lyons and Harold Cummins were found guilty yesterday of being accessories to the attack on the boys. Each of the first three was fined $5½ and costs, and the two latter $65 and costs each.

Boys' Uncles Are Fined.

Mrs. Emma Van Preese, aunt of Cameron and Raymond Richardson, the boys who were beaten, and Frank and Cameron Cummins, uncles of the boys, were convicted and fined $100 each Wednesday, together with the Rev. David Lyons, pastor of the church, on a charge of assault in connection with the attack on the boys.

The Cummins and Mrs. Van Preese are wealthy land owners. Mrs. Van Preese is the teacher of the small group who form the Holiness Church here.

ALASKA RAILROAD BILL TO BE RUSHED TO THE PRESIDENT

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Administration leaders were confident today that before the end of the week President Wilson would put his signature to the bill authorizing him to build a thousand miles of railroad from an Alaskan seaport to tap the great coal fields in the interior of the Territory.

The measure has passed both branches of Congress by overwhelming votes and today advanced to the stage of conference on House amendments, with everybody anxious for its passage to the White House.

As passed by the House last night, 230 to 87, the bill would provide that the President construct the railroad with $35,000,000 to be appropriated as needed from the Treasury, $1,000,000 being made available immediately, and in his own discretion to have the line operated by the Government or leased to private contractors.

The Senate bill proposed a bond issue of $40,000,000 to be redeemed out of Alaska's resources to finance the project.

Sentiment in the Senate is strong for the bond issue, while in the House Representative Fitzgerald's proposal to have the money taken directly from the United States Treasury was adopted by a vote of 88 to 87.

This question is the only stumbling block in the path of the conferees and, while it is admitted that it will give trouble, both sides are satisfied that no disagreement as to the methods will long delay an agreement.

110 TAKEN FROM PACKET WRECK GO ON TO MARDI GRAS

Queen City Sank at Louisville When on Winter Excursion Trip to New Orleans.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 19.—Owners of the packet Queen City, which sank near the dock here Tuesday morning, believe that their loss on cargo and damage to the vessel will approximate $20,000. Preparations are being made to raise the steamer as soon as the high waters subside.

The 110 passengers who were taken from the steamer have continued on their way to New Orleans to attend the Mardi Gras festival. Most of them were from Pittsburg and surrounding territory, and were participating in the only winter trip of the Queen City.

100 Passengers on River Transfer Boat When It Is Caught in Ice.

CAIRO, Ill., Feb. 19.—One hundred passengers on the transfer steamer Henry Marquard yesterday experienced some of the thrills and terrors of a river disaster when the steamer was caught in an ice jam at the junction of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers here.

The captain ordered full steam ahead, but the ship stood still wedged in the ice. The pilot tried to steer the ship to one side, but failed. Meanwhile the steamer's sides were being dented by the heavy ice packs.

Having no wireless, the vessel could not communicate with other steamers. Tugs on shore, noting the Marquard's delay, however, put out to her assistance. After five hours' work the tugs succeeded in pulling the steamer out of the ice and to shore here. The Marquard put ashore 100 passengers of a Cotton Belt train, which it was transferring from Bird Point, Mo., to Cairo.

MAN FOUND GUILTY SECOND TIME FOR MURDER OF WIFE

Jury Again Recommends Death Penalty for Nicola Gavorilowich of Madison.

Nicola Gavrilovich of Madison, Ill., was found guilty for the second time Wednesday night, by a jury in the Edwardsville Circuit Court of murdering his wife and his punishment again was recommended to be death by hanging. He was granted a new trial on a technicality after his first conviction.

Gavrilovich killed his wife in April, 1910. He had obtained employment in St. Louis and wanted her to move there from Madison. She refused. After he had been in St. Louis two months he returned to Madison and again demanded that his wife move to St. Louis. She again refused and he pursued her into the backyard and stabbed her five times in the back with a butcher knife.

A month later, after Gavrilovich had been indicted, he was declared insane and sent to the Asylum for the Criminal Insane at Chester. Last summer he was discharged as cured and was reindicted. He was tried and found guilty the night before Thanksgiving and the jury recommended that he be hung.

His attorney asked for a new trial on the ground that he had not been legally declared sane before he was placed on trial. Judge Hadley granted a new trial, but expressed an opinion that the verdict was just. An inquiry into the man's mental condition was then conducted and he was declared sane. His second trial and conviction followed.

The jury first took a ballot on Gavrilovich's sanity and found that he was sane. On the question of his guilt only one ballot was taken.

HEAVY SNOWFALL DELAYS CARS AT THE RUSH HOUR

Hundreds of Unemployed Men Furnished Work by Second Big Storm in Week.

The second heavy snowstorm of the season in St. Louis, following more than 12 hours of continuous rain, caused street car delays at the going-to-work hour Thursday and gave unexpected employment to hundreds of men who had just completed the task of clearing last weeks snow from streets in the downtown and residence section.

From about 11 p. m. to 7 a. m. the snowfall, as recorded by the Weather Bureau, was 3½ inches.

Preceding the snowstorm there was a rainfall of 1.30 inches between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. Wednesday. The Weather Bureau gauge showed an additional rainfall of .62 inch between 7 p. m. and 7 a. m. Thursday.

The drop in temperature following the long rain made street car tracks slippery and interfered with traffic in the early morning hours, although United Railways sweepers and snow plows had been in use since 2 a. m. Most of the delays were caused by the cautiousness of motormen in running over the slippery tracks.

From 7 to 8:30 a. m. there was unusual congestion on the downtown loop. This threw the cars out of their schedule on nearly all of the east and west lines.

A switch clogged with ice and snow at Olive street and Boyle avenue caused a delay on all Olive street lines between 7 and 7:30 o'clock.

Woman and Two Men Are Injured by Falls.

A number of persons were injured Wednesday afternoon and evening by falling on slippery sidewalks. A man supposed to be John Mott of Carter, Ark., a machinist in the employ of the Iron Mountain Railroad, slipped and fell from the second step of a coach as he was alighting from a train at the Tower Grove Station at 6:30 p. m. His head struck the iron rail and he was picked up unconscious. He was taken to the Missouri Pacific Hospital. He had not regained consciousness Thursday and physicians fear his injuries may prove fatal.

Mrs. Christian Stauffer, 46 years old, of 3802 Connecticut street, fell on the north side of Olive street, between Seventh and Eighth streets, and her hip was severely injured.

Thomas Reynolds, 36 years old, of 1327 South Third street, slipped and fell in front of 617 Walnut street. His head was severely cut. He was sent to the city hospital.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

What It Signifies.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In answer to your questions, What do the actions of our misrepresentatives at the city hall signify? What do the people think of the spectacle? would say that, personally, I think the city of St. Louis is ripe for a commission form of government. The people no longer have conscientious, high-minded workers to carry out their desires. They now have the personification of illiteracy, gang politics, warped morals and high-handed piracy occupying the chair intended for justice, intelligence and honor. It is the biggest blot upon the history of a country which prides itself upon its freedom, Constitution and ability to govern itself, to permit itself to be pulled by the nose and dishonored by officials who are incapable of governing themselves.

The free bridge disgrace proves the fallacy of government by ward politics. I dare say that it is not a desire to serve the dear people who elected them to office that prompts the blocking of the wheels of progress by our very wise and honest delegates. Can the people see the light?

P. F. BERDANIER.

B. M. L. Brief for Reber Approach.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The only way to answer the B. M. L. arguments for the Reber approach seems to be by refusing to hear them. They are unanswerable, as their opponents have now practically confessed.

CITIZEN.

Call to Work Under a Handicap.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I notice that Supt. Arendes of the Municipal Lodging House is quoted as saying that the hoboes refused to work for $2.50 a day. I wonder if Supt. Arendes would be eager to work if he were in the same fix as the hoboes, with their toes sticking out of their shoes and no underclothing; nothing but a pair of ragged overalls and an empty stomach. As there are few Christian people in this city with the heart of Christ these bums have a hard lot.

PETE JENNINGS.

Character of City Lawmakers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I think it a worthy task for some enterprising newspaper to begin a campaign for better representatives in the House of Delegates. The present members seem, outside of the minority, to possess no civic pride whatever. Some of the majority are better known as wranglers than they are as good citizens.

Of course the better type of citizen has heard that the game is rotten; as a result he leaves it alone. But there are times when men should be able to stand the stench of rottenness, and clean up the rotten part of public life where it exists. No man should consider his hands too clean when the time comes to clean house.

We need more of the so-called higher type of men in public life if they don't make sacrifices, conditions will not change, as the present type will continue to rule.

Let us work for a better representation in our lower house. I am sure it will mean lasting progress.

F. FRANCISCUS.

Pay of Frisco R. R. Clerks.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The Frisco has increased every class of employe's salary within the last four or five years except the clerks, which has not been raised since the year 1907, at which time all clerks were granted a $5 increase. Clerks are the most loyal employes that a corporation has, and the most neglected or least appreciated. Brother clerks, it is time to awaken and get together; other classes of labor have been granted an increase; our grocer and clothing bills are as expensive and cost as much as these men who have received increases two or three times since we have.

FRISCO, A CLERK.

Not Work for All.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In regard to your statement in tonight's issue, namely: "The Street Department established an employment office in the basement of the municipal courts building and every man who applied there with a shovel was put to work," will say that my husband and a homeless old man, 65 years old, applied there with shovels at 8 a. m. Saturday, and after waiting more than two hours, were told that no more men were needed. There were 500 (estimated) men—some of whom had gone to the expense of buying new shovels—turned away jobless, with snow blocking traffic on Grand avenue and most other principal streets as well. Why were not these men "with shovels" put to work? What's the answer? Also a number of wagons and teams were turned away, and still the snow is piled several feet high.

A MAN'S WIFE.

HOW MUCH WILL ST. LOUIS STAND?

This paper deliberately proposes the question: How much will St. Louis stand for?

St. Louis should be big enough to answer it in the spirit in which we propose it.

It is time to look facts in the face. St. Louis has stood for a great deal for a long time. How much longer will it be mocked by the rust-covered monument to municipal sloth and easy-going citizenship that looms out of the river at Chouteau avenue?

The unfinished free bridge has been the greatest advertisement St. Louis has had since the World's Fair. That fact stands unchallenged for what it is worth. There is no use blinking the further fact that it has offset some of the prestige which the World's Fair added to the city. It stands, furthermore, as a damaging fact against the valued old character and reputation St. Louis bore for aggressive honesty as well as progressive citizenship, acquired through the prosecution of dishonest municipal officers who blocked public works.

Is there any other American city of the first class which would tolerate our unfinished free bridge under like conditions? Is there any other metropolitan public in the United States that would stand for the gold brick offer of the A. & M. approach to finish that bridge when an honest, economical and speedy means stood ready to hand? Is there any other self-respecting community of proportions that would tolerate for one day the insolence and insult of the A. & M. "hold up"?

Easy-going civic character would not have restored Galveston or rebuilt San Francisco. Supineness would have left Baltimore a home for bats, and Chicago a charred and desolate blotch on the map.

Surely St. Louis does not need an earthquake, a fire or flood to rouse its public spirit, yet there can be no denying that it sleeps. There are a few organizations, a few committees, a few officials, a few newspapers, and a few private citizens who are straining to end the embargo on the progress of St. Louis, but they are a futile handful as against the inaction of the great public. Only St. Louis as a whole can accomplish the work. Experience has demonstrated that.

The public spirit of St. Louis is asleep. The pride of St. Louis is asleep. The ambition of St. Louis is asleep. The honesty of St. Louis is asleep. The very instinct of self-preservation of St. Louis is asleep when it can tolerate in patience an offer of private plunder as the only solution of its public difficulties.

The Post-Dispatch proposes the question: How much will St. Louis stand for? The answer to it should come from the great public and it should come in action.

The people have recourse in the initiative. They should prepare to force the submission of the $2,750,000 bond issue.

The 19-years-afterward march of Coxey's army from Massillon, O., is set for April 16. But that will give the recruits only 14 days in which to get to Washington by May day. Are they to march in Pullmans this time?

SENATOR GORE'S ACQUITTAL.

The atrocious charge of which Senator Gore has been acquitted was one which might be easily trumped up against any public official in his position. It was the "badger game" employed to exact an indorsement of public office at the cost of scandal and political ruin if resisted, and so ready is the public to believe anything of this kind charged against a public man that no one of them would be safe from the employment of designing women by office-seekers or political enemies, once the game had been proved workable.

The very blindness which made Senator Gore peculiarly helpless against such a plot may have served him well in fighting and disproving the charge. But he should not be satisfied to drop the matter. There should follow a prosecution of the conspirators against him in the interest of the public service.

Let us hope that the kind of stone for the new State house is not being picked out under the same sort of pressure that forced the choice of a bonding company.

PRACTICAL PUBLIC MEETINGS.

We assume that the Business Men's League will reject the foolish suggestion of the Joint Conference Committee of the Municipal Assembly for a public hearing on the approach question at the Coliseum. A hearing of that kind would be futile.

Instead of a public hearing for the Conference Committee and the lobbyists who guide its work, the Business Men's League and the organizations co-operating with it to complete the bridge should plan public meetings in the wards to prepare for the initiative. Citizens of the wards should be brought together to discuss ways and means of organizing an effective campaign to put the initiative into effect.

The people should be fully informed of the necessity of action through the initiative and of the steps necessary to be taken. In this way not only will the way be opened to obtain signatures for the initiative, but great progress will be made in the bridge completion campaign.

NO LICENSED DISORDERLY RESORTS.

In drawing closer the lines on saloons that give cause for offense, Excise Commissioner Anderson is certain of public indorsement and support.

The earnestness with which the new policy is being applied is shown by the fact that in the 12 months after he took office he revoked for cause the licenses of 67 places where intoxicants had been sold, twice as many as had been revoked in the four preceding years. A further step in the same approved direction is the closer scrutiny to which he is now subjecting the character of places as their licenses expire and application is made for a renewal. As a resort for disreputables of both sexes the cafe of costly appointments and high charges may be as dangerous to good order and real estate values as the sawdust-strewn den.

The Commissioner's present crusade is the more important because of the police announcement of the early abolition of the red light district. The unsegregated population of that district must not be permitted to find new places of resort in quarters operating under the dramshop laws.

The community is prepared to give commendation to the new policy with the proviso that it is enforced without favoritism and in strict accord with the facts disclosed in each particular case.

Plans for a skyscraper in East St. Louis are another evidence that the town is trying to live up to the obligations and responsibilities of the third city of Illinois with a population approximating 75,000.

DICTATOR SCHERRER.

The Scherrer Grab Combine in the Bridge Conference Committee has again rejected the business men's petition and refused to permit representatives of the B. M. L. to appear before them.

But the combine gladly listens to Promoter and Lobbyist Scherrer and his paid attorneys, who grossly misrepresent the facts. Scherrer with his attorneys is persona grata. They are the advisers and guides of the combine members. The people are not dealing with a committee of their public servants, but with Promoter and Lobbyist Scherrer, who is behind the majority of the committee. Scherrer is the dictator.

"WORK, NOT ALMS."

If the unemployment problem is to be solved, as far as St. Louis is concerned, it must be by adopting measures that will give a practical answer to the inscriptions on the banners carried by the unemployed men in their march to the city hall: "Give us Employment, Not Charity." "We Want Work, Not Alms."

To bring this about it is necessary that the municipal lodging house be so improved as to make it a real help to the transient lodger. It should be enlarged and equipped in a sanitary, comfortable manner. And the food supply should be sufficient so that the man starting to look for work may have the necessary strength. All this is provided for in the bill introduced by Delegate Meisner Tuesday night. Its passage would place St. Louis in line with New York, Chicago and Kansas City with regard to care of floating labor.

If the bill is intended as a substitute for the present ordinance creating the municipal lodging house, it should by all means include the provision making the institution an employment bureau. When a lodger has been sheltered and fed, he should have the opportunity to work. Willingness to take employment should be the test of his standing. That test will weed out the tramps and panhandlers, who should be sent to the workhouse. But no effort should be spared in placing the man or woman willing to work in a position to become self-supporting.

COMMISSION PLAN FOR ST. CHARLES.

The St. Charles movement for commission plan government with Mayor John N. Olson actively co-operating shows a progressive spirit that must be accorded recognition.

Interested St. Louisans had the benefit of a study at close range on the merits of this form of centralized, responsible municipal government during the campaign for its adoption in East St. Louis. The conditions under which it was rejected there give no reason for discouragement in St. Charles. Commission charters are now authorized in more than two-thirds of the states, Missouri being one of the latest additions to the list. They have worked a revolution in the attitude toward civic affairs in towns of all sizes. Admirable results have been gained by them in keeping politics out of town affairs and giving the people more for their money in cities of St. Charles' rank and average annual income.

To provide the ancient St. Louis suburb with the most improved and up-to-date charter will insure benefits for itself and hasten the belated commission government movement in interior Missouri towns generally.

A DOUBLE-BARRELED BOY.

One of the strangest cases of dual personality ever recorded is reported from Berne, Switzerland, where the X-ray has just been turned on a healthy boy whose amazing appetite puzzled the surgeons. What do you suppose the surgeons found? They found two fully developed stomachs in the same boy.

Yet even this discovery does not altogether clear up the mystery of where a small boy puts all that he eats. It might pay the surgeons to take another look—maybe they would discover one or two more stomachs in the same boy. We have seen boys on festal occasions, picnics, visits to relatives, and at Sunday dinners, who afforded reasonable ground for the suspicion that they had half a dozen stomachs concealed about their persons.

The scientifically demonstrated fact that the normal small boy is double-barreled, at least, must completely revolutionize the treatment of stomach-ache, necessitating two doses where but one was required before.

OFFICIAL MISFITS.

Friends of New York's State Treasurer, who cut his throat when summoned to an inquisition into his public acts, defend him with the argument that he was wholly ignorant of finance and feared that the grand jurors "would make a monkey of him." He served as Treasurer under three Governors and had been chairman of a State Democratic Committee, yet was so conscious of his ignorance of essential facts connected with his duties that he preferred death to the exposure his friends feel called upon to make.

Such high sensitiveness is astounding in one who won high political position; perhaps other successful politicians of low degree have aspired, as did this suicide, to bury a past under heaps of political preferment and have learned the depths of their ignorance, but St. Louis lacks knowledge of them. Our politically eminent ignoramuses glory in their darkness, flaunt their insolent ignorance and frankly avow contempt for learning and the decencies of life. They measure public policies in the jiggers of benefits that will accrue to them and when called upon to consider the public weal cry: "Let 'er go Gallagher!" in callous disregard of right and justice. They exalt ribaldry as a virtue, shout epithets against argument and instead of deliberating intelligently on issues before them offer to fight it out with their fists.

The State Treasurer's suicide was folly; but he evinced an exaltation of which our official misfits "do not know and never can know and never can understand." We submit official conduct in recent bridge hearings as proof.

THE MAN BEHIND THE COMBINE.

JUST A MINUTE.

Written for the Post-Dispatch by Clark McAdams.

JOHN ROCKEFELLER.

John Rockefeller, past amends,
Was calmly raking dividends.

The increment from Standard Oil
Responded nicely to his toil.

Said John, "I like this sort of thing;
It's good to be a money king.

"It has its drawbacks here and there,
But on the whole the sport is fair."

The income tax collector slowed
His motor cycle in the road.

He watched the money king a while,
And then approached him with a smile

"Friend John," said he, in manner mild;
"Your income statement—is it filed?"

John Rockefeller turned around
And cleared the meadow with a bound.

Nor did he falter in his pace
Till he was in his hiding place.

"Great Scott!" he said, and mopped his brow;
"How many taxes are there now?"

IN THE SENATE.

First Senator: I think the President is fighting the canal exemptions in the interest of the transcontinental railroads.

Second Senator: I don't. I think the President is quite sincere. He simply wants the United States to keep its treaty agreements.

Third Senator: That is what I make of it. He wants to show the world that this country is on the square.

Fourth Senator: That is what I object to.

Second Senator: To being on the square?

Fourth Senator: All of the time—yes. It isn't human. Isn't the President going to do any mean little things at all, or is he going on at this rate until he shames everybody else to death? I don't think we ought to exempt coastwise trade from paying canal tolls, and I do think we ought to live up to our treaty agreements with England. I do think, however, that we should do something we ought not to do. It has always been done, and if we don't do it we show scant courtesy to those who have been here before us. I personally hope we never have another college man for President. This thing of being on the level every day and every hour is a terrible strain. It is not only wearing us out, but is making it hard for ex-Presidents and former legislators to show their faces.

It is little wonder that the Frisco went broke. It has been trying this week to get everybody to go to the Texas gulf coast to shoot ducks, when, as a matter of fact, the new Federal law prohibits duck shooting this month anywhere in the United States.

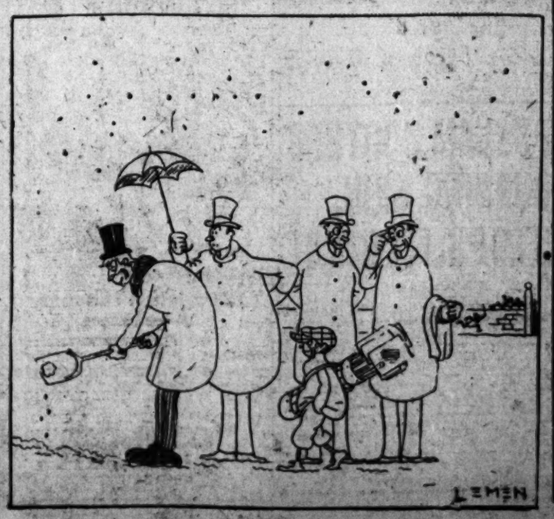

Those who lament some elements of our citizenship must not forget that big cities cannot be entirely made up of nice people, as small places can.

Let us hope that the Gore verdict does not remove Outlaw Al Jennings from the race for Governor. We want to see a vote on Al.

Things have turned out just as James J. Hill said they would. Somebody has stolen his prize ear of corn.

Cates: He is an aristocrat, isn't he?
Clemens: He rides in the bus.

ROCKEFELLER AGAIN TRIES TO BE OF SOME USE IN THE WORLD.

Senator Culpeper Pins a Rose on Senator Gore

By LEWIS B. ELY.

THE Third Senator from Missouri rises to remark:

"Senator Gore's acquittal in 2:01¼, the fastest time ever made on any judicial circuit, is a record-breaking and epoch-making performance, which establishes a new high-water mark of innocence for Senators. It is a victory for all of us, reflecting credit on the whole body. It is not often that the Senate, or the House either, gets a chance to celebrate a triumph of this character, and I therefore move that we make the most of it by taking a recess for the day, in which the House shall be invited to join.

"I move that the glorious and beautiful verdict be entered in the Congressional Record in engrossed form, in embossed and gilded letters, together with appropriate resolutions and encomiums; that copies be freely circulated in this country, and special morocco-bound copies of finest parchment be transmitted through their respective embassies to the crowned heads of Great Britain and Continental Europe.

"I further move you that a committee on reception composed of Senator Lodge, Senator Hitchcock and Senator Root be appointed to arrange for the triumphal return of Senator Gore into the City of Washington, with triumphal arches, floral tributes and the 'Conquering Hero' and triumphal march from 'Aida' played by the Marine Band.

"Boys, we may never have another occasion like this! Let's do it up in style!"

A Great Son of Dixie.

From the Houston Post.

Lincoln's birthday was duly celebrated in Houston last night. As one of the South's most illustrious sons, Lincoln will always hold a place in the esteem of Texans, and Texas is gratified that so many people of the North are broad-minded and patriotic enough to do honor to the memory of this great South-

BELLE.—City hospital service is free. Operations by doctors only. There are a few small rooms, with 2 or 3 beds, to which patients who would be disturbed are assigned.

Z. M.—Hydrant water is settled by the city by lime and sulphate of iron; ½ to 4 grains per gallon of water; lime, 8 to 9. A new system—passing chlorine gas through the water—is being considered. Physicians have recommended the present water.

POKEY.—In the army the remedy for chilblains is acetic acid. A permanent cure may be effected by a cold foot bath taken every night. Somebody writes: At first evidence of chilblain try belladonna. Either the liniment or ointment may be used. If attended to a little later, but before it has broken, turpentine liniment is good. If broken, one may not apply any powerful stimulants or poisons. Iodoform ointment may be used quite freely until the parts have healed. Then protection, warmth and a little turpentine liniment now and again will make things right. Or you may try pine tar or repeated applications of oil of eucalyptus.

SONORA.—Ten per cent of sum coming to you in hands of employer at time of garnishment. Cost is put up on other side but may fall to you. Party can garnish as often as he cares to, but it may be quite expensive to him, and for this reason he may not garnish at all.

ARIZONA.—Pay no attention to notice and should Constable call, claim what you have as your exemptions allowed under the law. Your wife should let him in and should they go too far sue them for damages. We think it is a game of bluff.

MRS. B.—The insurance upon the life of your illegitimate child, payable to you, would be valid. There is no reason why it cannot take that name as well as any other. The way you are now living is unlawful and against the statute, unless your husband is dead or you have obtained a divorce.

SUBSCRIBER.—Under section 2172 of the U. S. Revised Statutes, minor children dwelling within the United States at the time of the admission to citizenship of their parents are "considered as citizens thereof." In Mr. Epstein's case, the evidence adduced at the hearing on his application showed he had for many years claimed citizenship through his father's naturalization. He had been called upon to establish the fact his father was a citizen, and having no proof of such naturalization, he conceived the idea of making application for naturalization under a special statute (known as the Act of 1910), the provisions of which the Court held did not apply to a case such as his. For this reason his petition was denied.

ANXIOUS SUB.—Longest river, Nile, 4795. Amazon flows from west to east.

BOATING.—St. Louis collects no ferry license. Federal license required for 500 tons boat. State may license and tax; city or county may require license.

SPANISH.—Working Spanish vocabulary should include at least 400 words, which number will increase indefinitely as you become proficient. You can learn the language with a private teacher or by attending night school classes, supplemented by study at home, in 3 or 4 months. Or, you can potter along with self-teaching methods, for a year or more, and perhaps learn to read Spanish, but not to use it practically in conversation.

ANONYMOUS.—We celebrate Washington day from habit. Lincoln died much later than Washington and we haven't yet the Lincoln habit. When the celebration of Washington day began there were fewer holidays than now; at present there are so many that new ones do not get recognition. Don't worry about Old Abe. There is more and more glory for him. As to Washington, Lincoln said, in a temperance lecture at Springfield, Feb. 22, 1842: "Washington is the mightiest name of earth—long since mightiest in the cause of civil liberty, still mightiest in moral reformation. On that name no eulogy is expected. It can not be. To add brightness to the sun or glory to the name of Washington is alike impossible. Let none attempt it. In solemn awe pronounce the name and in its deathless splendor leave it shining on."

E. A. K.—Your question is thus answered by the Railway Age Gazette of Chicago: Time and distance required to stop a heavily loaded passenger train from a speed of 60 miles per hour, is rather a difficult question to answer, on account of the many variables entering into the proposition. Test results show that a six-car train has been stopped from a speed of 60 miles per hour in 1100 ft. in about 19 seconds; that a 12-car train running at 60 miles per hour has been stopped in 1859 ft. and that an eight-car train running at a speed of 47.5 miles per hour has been stopped in 1678 ft. in about 29 seconds. Answering your question as you stated it, it would undoubtedly be safe to say that a heavily loaded modern passenger train running at 60 miles per hour may be stopped within 1400 to 1900 ft. in about 25 or 30 seconds.

NICOLAIS.—As to latest law regarding military service in Italy, we have this from the Italian Consulate: Every Italian citizen residing in a foreign country, at the age of 20, must appear before a consular official where he resides, or any other nearer him, and be examined. If he is found able to serve in the army, and if he emigrated from Italy after his 16th year, it is his duty to return to Italy immediately, or not later than Dec. 1 of the same year in which he was examined. Those who emigrated before 16 years of age could stay here indefinitely and every year they could go to Italy for two months, and then return to this country, provided they have reasons to go there, such as illness of their parents or any member of the family, or having special interests there to attend to. At 32 years of age these men are free from their army duty, while the others are free at 39 years of age. Naturalization here of Italians subject to military service in Italy

A Girl Who Proposed

She Didn't Mean to Do It, but All's Well That Ends Well.

By Temple Bailey.

WHEN the folding beds were let down the space between them was so slight that Felicia could reach out her hand and touch her roommate.

"Katharine!" she said, softly.

The other girl sat up in the moonlight.

"Go on," she said, resignedly, "of course, you want to talk."

"Of course I ... tremulously, ever ... Kathie?"

"Certainly not. ... courage to tell a girl ... he is a pretty poor stick."

"He isn't a poor stick," Felicia blazed.

"Who isn't?"

"Well, the man I am talking about."

"I wasn't condemning anyone in particular," Katharine said; "but I know whom you mean, Felicia."

Felicia caught her breath.

"Isn't he fine?" she asked, softly.

Katharine drew back a little into the shadows.

"He is well worth any woman's devotion," she said, slowly.

"Yes, he is," Felicia agreed, "but he'll never ask me to marry him, Kathie."

"Why not?"

"He's too proud. He knows that I have a lot of money, and he's poor, and independent, and, though I know he loves me, he'll try to wait until he has enough to offer me; and in the meantime I—I shall break my heart!"

Felicia was sobbing now, with her face crushed into her pillow.

Still in the shadow, Katharine whispered:

"Perhaps he will ask you before you go home, dear."

"He won't, he won't!" Felicia wailed. "And after I am graduated I shan't see him again. You know my people have plans for me—Europe and society, and all the things I don't want to do."

"It looks a little desperate, doesn't it? A woman is so helpless."

"She ought not to be," Felicia flared. "There ought to be some way." She hesitated. "Don't you think—oh, Katharine, couldn't you ask him for me?"

"What?" Katharine's voice was full of amazement.

"It sounds worse than it is," Felicia pleaded. "I mean, can't you talk to him some time—tomorrow night at the reception, for example—and tell him that—oh, that I don't care if he is poor, that you think a man ought to tell a woman he loves her, and let her decide whether she will share his poverty. You could do it, Katharine, tactfully, and it wouldn't seem so—so unconventional."

Katharine laughed a little.

"It would be unconventional if I did it, wouldn't it?" she asked. "But I couldn't, Felicia, dear. Wait, and let fate work it out for you."

"Fate won't work it out!" Felicia was sobbing again. "But, of course, I should not have asked you, Kathie. Oh, I don't know what to do!"

In the darkness, Katharine's hand reached over and took the younger girl's slender fingers in a firm clasp.

"Dear little girl," she said, "you know I would do anything in reason."

"Yes, I do," Felicia whimpered, "and this isn't in reason. But, oh, Kathie, some day you may fall in love with a poor man and find that life isn't all roses and romance to girls with money, like you and me!"

"I know it isn't," Katharine agreed, quietly. "And now you'd better go to sleep, kiddie, and forget your troubles."

And after that there was silence. When the moon dropped below the horizon, Felicia was asleep, but Katharine lay propped high on her pillows, gazing wide-eyed into the night.

Here, then, was the end of her dream. It was Felicia that he liked best, the strong, grave man, who for years had taught the girls English literature; and in a week he would be out of her own life forever.

And, if she would, Katharine might make him happy. Impulsively, she laid her hand on Felicia's shoulder.

"What?" murmured Felicia, sleepily.

"I'm going to speak to John, dear," Katharine told her, and Felicia, wide-awake at once, flung her arms about her friend, and kissed her.

"You dearest dear!" was her girlish appreciation.

But speaking to John Armstrong was ...o easy. Next evening, Katharine ...ion in pale blue and silver, found ...f starting and blushing whenever ...aw his broad shoulders towering ... the crowd. Standing in line with ...her graduates, she murmured the ...ational commonplaces, while in ...ack of her mind she was telling Armstrong over and over again ...Felicia Manning loved him.

...e crowd began to thin, she made ...y to the dining room. The soft ...f the red-capped candles on the ...rew the rest of the room into ... but she made out the man she so ...in the alcove, where the wide-flung windows let in the fragrance of the night.

"How lovely it is out there!" she said, as she came up to him. "Have you seen the roses in the garden?"

He turned with a start, and looked down at her.

"No," he said, "I haven't; but I am going to look at them now if you will go with me."

At the sun dial they stopped, and Katharine, tracing the worn letters with her forefinger, said, hesitating:

"Tomorrow ends our college life—Felicia's and mine."

"Yes," he acquiesced, looking down at her and straightening his shoulders as if he took upon himself some burden. "Tomorrow you will go out into the world, to be petted and admired, to see new scenes. I envy you!"

"And you?"

"I shall run up to the mountains for the vacation, and then I shall come back and teach."

"You must be lonely," she ventured.

"Very lonely," he agreed, quietly, "but I never felt it so much as I do now."

Katharine laughed, tremulously.

"Why don't you—marry?"

"I would," he told her, "if the women I love were not beyond my reach."

"How is that?" she probed.

He flashed a sudden glance at her. "She is rich, and I have—nothing."

"Oh"—she was eager for Felicia's cause—"but if she didn't care for money? If she would rather have—love?"

"Even then I could not ask her," he said, decisively.

"But if she wanted to be asked, if she were very unhappy, if"—her voice broke. "Oh, you might give her the opportunity to say what she would do!"

"She would have to care a great deal," he began, and stopped.

Katharine leaned across the dial. It was not easy to plead another woman's cause with him—but it was for his happiness and Felicia's.

"She does care," she said, tensely.

"Katharine!" he whispered. "You wonderful woman to tell me"——

"I—I wanted Felicia to be happy!" she faltered.

"What has Felicia to do with my love for you?" he demanded.

"With your love for me?" The overpowering radiance of the thought bewildered her. "Did you think I was asking for myself? It was for Felicia. You have admitted that you love her, by your attentions—the violets that come every morning"——

"I never sent Felicia Manning a violet in my life!" he interrupted.

"What?"

"I happen to know that it is John Fellows who sends her violets," he went on. "He told me he meant to ask her tonight to marry him."

"John Fellows!" Then, as the full meaning of her mistake burst upon her, she asked, miserably: "What must you think of me?"

"What I have always thought," he said, quietly—"that there is no other like you, and never will be."

All about them was the fragrance of the rose garden, the witchery of the moonlight, the silence of the stars. And out of the silence she said, bravely:

"You must not let me plead now, for—myself!"

Her reward was the rapture in his face as he bent over her.

Half and Half—A New Castle Dance—As Done by the Famous Castles Themselves.

Do You Do the Half-and-Half? Its a Five-Step

New York Society Sees and Immediately Adopts Latest Dance Invented by Vernon Castle.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.

"YOU just roll around and then pause on one foot. It's very easy, even more so than the 'lame duck'," said Mrs. Vernon Castle to a reporter for the Post-Dispatch, after she and Mr. Castle had demonstrated their new dance, the "half and half," at Castle House.

Then Arthur N. Green, who composed the music, explained that the dance had been designed for drawing room use and the rhythm had been particularly adapted for that purpose. The half and half—beautiful as the Castles danced it, whatever it may be with less expert feet—is written in five-four time, and the waltz and two-step alternate in it.

To the amateur observer the half and half suggested the maxixe, the hesitation and the tango, but the maxixe is old, the hesitation is older and the tango is very, very old, as dances go, and society is expected to respond eagerly to the latest because it is new.

Mr. Castle says it is very easy to dance and not a bit like hard work, but some onlookers thought of their usual dancing partners and shook their heads. Still, the half and half was warmly received and much encored.

When Mr. and Mrs. Castle danced it they took the conventional position, such as was used from the beginning in dancing the two-step and waltz. Mr. Castle's right arm was around his wife's waist, although only his four slim fingers touched it. His left hand lightly clasped her right one, holding it parallel and on a level with their heads. Her left hand rested on his right shoulder.

A long step with the right foot was followed by a short step with the left. a short step with the right and then another long step with the left. Instead of circling the ballroom, Mr. and Mrs. Castle danced back and forth across it, widthwise, in a very graceful and delicate version of what college men know as "the serpentine." On the turn after each long step, Mrs. Castle's slender foot swept backward in a small semi-circular kick, which of itself stamped the dance as belonging to the year 1914, despite its mingling of the steps of yesteryear.

Some of the society women already much interested in the half-and-half are Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel Jr., Mrs. T. J. Oakley Rhinelander, Mrs. W. G. # Woolly Dog

Sandman Story Showing the Evils of Discontent.

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

A LITTLE woolly dog sat in a shop window and waited a long time for some little girl or boy to carry him away. He saw many things from this window. A blind man stood there and sold pencils, and one day he looked at Woolly Dog and the dog was sure he winked at him. And if he were blind Woolly Dog wondered why he looked at the pennies that were given him.

One day a little boy bought Woolly Dog and carried him away. He was on little wheels and every day the boy took him for a run on the sidewalk. Woolly Dog was very happy for a while, but one day a wheel was broken and then a puppy shook him and pulled out some of his white wool and then he was thrown into a drawer with other broken toys to be mended, some day.

Woolly Dog lay in the corner of the drawer. There were a broken whip and a top with the point gone, a rubber ball with a hole in it and a torn picture book, but none of these were company for Woolly Dog. One day the drawer was opened and he was sure he was to be taken out and mended, but no, a little wooden hen was thrown in. She was close to Woolly Dog.

"What has happened to you?" he asked the hen.

"Oh, a piece of my comb is broken off," she said, "and the little boy picked out one of my eyes, but I am to be mended, some day."

"Do not count on that," said the dog. "I have been here a long time, and they were going to mend me. You better come into my corner and live with me."

Woolly Dog told her the things he had seen from the shop window and the little hen thought him the most wonderful creature she had ever seen, and they were very happy.

One day the drawer was opened again and a cloth cat was thrown in. "What happened to you?" asked the dog and hen.

"Oh, I am soiled and my coat is torn; I am to have a new covering, some day," replied the cat. But the dog and hen told her they had been there a long, long time, and not to count upon being taken out. "You better live with us," said the hen; "there are no other animals here." So the cat lived with the dog and hen.

One day the cat said: "It is very plain that you two are not suited to each other; one scratches for food and the other has teeth and chews it. I cannot understand why you have not thought of this. When you go out of this drawer you will see it is quite an impossible friendship." So the little hen began to think it over and it made her very sad. And the dog would look at the hen and feel very unhappy.

And one day, after the cat had talked to them, the dog moved to the other side of the drawer and he and the little hen were very sad. The cat lived in the center of the drawer and she was discontented, and so none of them was happy. The cat did not care for the dog or the hen, but because of her discontent she made the dog and the little hen believe they were not happy together, and so they all lived apart. If the cat had not come into the drawer to live, the woolly dog never would have noticed that the hen had only two legs, and the little hen would not have thought about her feathers and the dog's hairy coat.

It is not pleasant to have a discontented person around us.

Make This and Try It for Coughs

This Home-Made Remedy Has No Equal for Prompt Results.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup.

This simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually conquers an ordinary cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchitis.

This makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this plan.

Making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful mixture has never been equaled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

His Lordship Was a Skeptic.

When a pension was voted to Faraday for his remarkable additions to scientific knowledge, from which untold millions of pounds sterling have inured, an ignorant Lord was selected to announce the grant, but informed Faraday that he did not think much of this science business, and added: "Now, really, Faraday, it's all a humbug, anyway, isn't it?" The insulted chemist refused the pension until other better informed officials apologized humbly for the impertinence of "his lordship."

The First Electric Car.

The first electric car to be run on a track was exhibited 68 years ago in the town hall in Dover, N. H., by its inventor, Moses G. Farmer. The track was two feet and a half wide and carried a car large enough to hold several people.

FABLES OF EVERYDAY FOLK

By SOPHIE IRENE LOEB.

THE DINNER LADY.

ONCE upon a time there was a lady who loved dinners—other people's dinners. She dined much—with other people. In fact, she rarely had dinner at home. She knew the usual table talk, and in the words of Dr. Holmes, her evening's amusement consisted of "giggle, gobble, gabble, git."

She rarely accepted an invitation of any sort unless it was to dinner. In truth, let someone telephone to her to arrange about seeing her and she always made some suggestion about dinner.

A quiet evening at home was unknown to her and a caller might not call except—to take her to dine. And should such a one unexpectedly come, could he have overheard the comment later he would have found himself labeled "chair warmer."

This lady knew every restaurant in town—especially where the menus were written in another language. She also knew the "special" dishes, that mother never made, the cost of which always had three figures. In the words of the old song, "She said she wasn't hungry, but this is what she ate." At least the bill told the story.

Sad to relate, the donor of the dinner was FORGOTTEN the morning after. Of course she preferred some people to others. But rather than lose an invitation to dinner "any old dude would do."

Thus it came to pass that she was seen often and with 57 varieties. Those who had dined with her began to realize that they were not so favored with her society, since she was out so much with others. Gradually it dawned on them.

One or two tried to invite her to do this, that or the other thing instead of dining, but an excuse was always ready. Soon they understood that it was not their society she sought or wished, but rather the joy of ordering the best from the commercial cuisine.

In a word, they in turn were compelled to label the dinner lady "the grafter." One by one their invitations ceased, and she wondered why.

For the usual fate of the grafter is that he cannot live up to the eleventh commandment, which is, "Thou shalt not be found out." He always is. Now she has to stay at home and dream of the dinners which she might have had if she had cultivated a sense of interest besides that of self.

Moral: He who would enjoy hospitality must give it.

Advice on Love and Courtesy

By BETTY VINCENT.

Dear Miss Betty Vincent: I am a young girl, 18 years old; am employed as a bookkeeper and had made an acquaintance with a young man working in the same building, but not for the same firm. I have known this man for seven months. I see him about twice a week. He always has a little to say when he meets me, but he never asked me to go out with him.

This week he met me at noon and asked me to have lunch with him, upon which I refused. Do you think it was right or wrong to do so? I think much of this man. DOLLY.

It probably would have been more proper for him to have asked you to call at your home. If he is worthy, however, there should be no objection to your going to lunch with him.

Miss Betty Vincent: A young man has been paying attention to me for several months. We both are bashful and talk very little. Can you advise me what to do? L. J.

Encourage the young man to talk of the things that interest him most. Study his likes and dislikes. A better acquaintance will doubtless lead to free interchange of conversation.

"J. K." writes: "I am in love with a girl of 21, but I myself am only 19. Is there too much difference in our ages for us to be happy together?"

I should not think so, if you are otherwise well suited.

Sweet Cherry Pickle.

TAKE Murillo cherries, or any sour variety, seed by hand, cover with vinegar, not too sour, and let stand over night. Next day drain off the vinegar, pressing lightly so as not to bruise the fruit. (Throw this away). Then measure the cherries, by the cupful; to every cup of fruit take a cup of sugar; put in stone jar; alternating a cup of sugar to one of cherries. Stir well every morning for one week (it takes this long for the sugar to dissolve), then put up in airtight glass jars. Will keep indefinitely. Serve with duck, goose or turkey.

Tapioca Pudding.

SOAK a cup of tapioca (after washing it through several waters) in warm water, just to cover it, three hours. (Some tapioca which is on the market needs little soaking). Then pour over three pints of sweet milk, yolks of six eggs well beaten with one and one-half cups of sugar, one-half teaspoon of salt, one-half teaspoon of nutmeg. Place ingredients in a double boiler and let cook as thick as custard. Place in pudding dish and set in the oven five or ten minutes so that it will dry on top. Make a meringue of the six whites and pour on top, smoothing nicely. Brown slightly in the oven. For a small family half of the quantities can be used. It is improved by serving a sauce with it.

The Language Twisters

By Elsa Crosby.

ANY woman who has been spoon-fed on the real maple or granulated brand of conversation since the day of her marriage simply can't understand it if her hubby quite by accident cuts out the sugar and talks plain United States.

Wives who are brought up to be pet-sie-wetsied and tootsie-wootsied acquire the habit in a little while, and you never can break 'em of it. They expect it for breakfast and dinner. Even when they are out for the evening they are not entirely satisfied unless something in the lovey-dovey vein is slipped over.

There are women who would frown and become indignant if they were jocerely called wifey, who think that Dear Old Fudge is just too sweet for anything.

Once a man starts in with his little line of sweetheart talk he ought to stick to it. Samples of new goods are not wanted. A bride who begins the honeymoon as Little Chick doesn't want any novelties in expressions of endearment. Once Little Chick, always Little Chick.

It was reported recently that a young wife had gone home to mamma thoroughly sick at heart and just as miserable as she could be because her husband had omitted to call her his dear little Crook Neck Squash when she met him at the door on his return from a caucus.

Honest, he didn't mean to. But that was no excuse. She knew he no longer loved her. He probably was shining up to someone else, and she'd find out if it took her all winter. She'd been keeping her eye on him for some time, and now her suspicions were fully verified.

So long as a husband keeps up a fair average there's no real danger; but when he shows signs of candying everything he says, a wife should be on her guard.

If a husband in a burst of verbal affection puts his arms around his wife, places her head where she can hear his watch as plain as day, she may be sure that he is about to open negotiations for some extra change for the evening. Unless she's fully on to his curves, nine times out of ten she'll stand for it and split fifty-fifty with him, even to the pennies under the handkerchiefs in the bureau drawer.

Thin People Can Increase Weight

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay-there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying: First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and most any thin man or woman can easily add from one to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it turns the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten into rich, ripe, fat-producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepares it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. All this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol stops the waste, and does it quickly and makes the fat-producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Judge & Dolph, Wolff-Wilson, Weipert Drug Co., Raboteau, Johnson Bros. and other leading druggists in St. Louis and vicinity sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back.—ADV

FOR A SOUR STOMACH, INDIGESTION, GAS OR DYSPEPSIA—PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take Pape's Diapepsin, and in five minutes you will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and gets things straight, so gently and easily that it is astonishing. Please don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—ADV.

The Stroud Pianola

So enviable is the position of the genuine Pianola as the one supremely successful player-action that on every hand imitators attempt to confuse the public by calling any player-piano, however inferior, a Pianola.

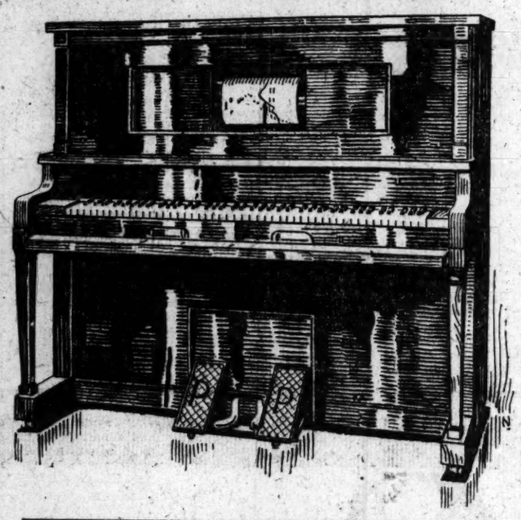

The name Pianola is the trade-mark name for the one player-action which has been universally indorsed by musicians of the highest rank, including Greig, Moskowski, Chaminade, Paderewski, Hoffman and hundreds equally renowned.

The Pianola is made by the Aeolian Company and is built in but six models: Steinway, Stroud, Wheelock, Steck, Stuyvesant and Weber. It may be seen only at Aeolian Hall in Saint Louis. Refuse to be misled.

The Stroud Pianola is the most recent creation of the great Aeolian organization of player and piano experts. As an instrument for hand playing it has received the enthusiastic indorsement of renowned musicians whose judgment is valuable: Germans, Italians, French, English, Americans. Its tone and action leaves nothing to be desired.

Incorporated within its case is the genuine Pianola action enabling the veriest novice to play artistically even the most difficult composition instantly.

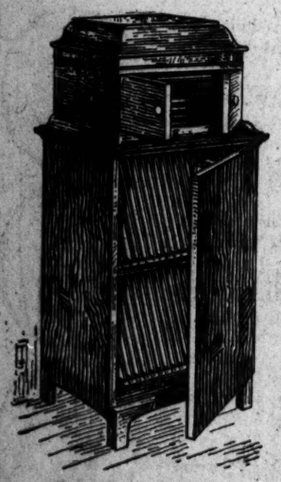

With this marvelous instrument in your home you may sit down and play whatever suits your mood, whether you've had previous musical training or not. And if you have been musically trained you will doubly appreciate the exclusive features of the Pianola, which will enable you to reproduce perfectly the hand-playing of any artist.

There is no longer any good reason why you should even consider an imitation of the genuine Pianola, for you may now obtain the genuine Pianola itself for as little as..

JACK DILLON TO OPPOSE ENGLISH AT FUTURE CITY

Middleweight Title Aspirant Will Meet Sturdy Foe Here March 2.

Leach Cross to Box Victor of March 17 Bout at Los Angeles

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.

IF the 20-round boxing bout between Freddie Welsh and Joe Rivers takes place at Los Angeles, March 17, as expected, the winner will be asked to face Leach Cross, the hard-hitting New Yorker, the second week in April in the same arena.

Welsh's terms have been accepted and the date is all settled, except the signing of the articles. Rivers had been matched to box Cross, but the management decided to play its attractions differently.

Jack Dillon, who, with Frank Klaus, constituted the class of the middleweight title world only a year or two ago, and who still is in the race for laurels, will fight at the Future City A. C., March 2, with Larry English as his opponent.

English is a sufficiently able fighter to make Dillon show what he possesses. He has been training hard here for a bout with Buck Crouse, which never materialized. English is not a champion by a long shot, but he at least should prove a better opponent for Dillon than the Tommy Danforths, Marshall Claibornes and other soft things the Indianapolis middleweight has been picking out for himself.

Dillon and his championship claims have been somewhat overshadowed by George Chip, the rising star of the 158-pounders and holder of the title by virtue of two knockouts of Klaus. Dillon met Klaus several times and their meetings were tame.

Dillon was recently offered a bout with Sailor Petroskey, at Los Angeles. He refused, saying that he was making too much money picking out easy ones.

Jabez White Gets Chance.

Jabez White, the clever Albany (N. Y.) fighter who made such a favorable impression at the Future City A. C. when he trimmed Nate Kalb recently, is going on in the main event at the Sullivan organization next Tuesday against Tickles Sanders of Memphis.

Johnny Kern and Sailor Jerabeck are matched in the semi-windup.

MINER BROWN AFTER THREE BIG LEAGUERS

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Three ballplayers, Art Hofman, formerly with the Cubs and now claimed by Nashville; Otis Crandall, the Giants' pitcher, and Chick Hartley, who was transferred to Cincinnati in the Bescher-Herzog deal, considered Federal League contracts today.

Manager Mordecai Brown of the St. Louis Federals talked terms with all three. Hofman is desirous of going with Brown, his former teammate, but the league authorities want him to sign with Brooklyn, and he conferred with Mr. Ward.

It is said that Stahl may buy stock in the Brooklyn Federal League club.

ST. LOUIS RUNNERS OFF FOR NEW ORLEANS RACE

Jake Kaysing and John Probst departed Thursday for New Orleans, where they will represent the Columbian Athletic Club in the annual 11-mile handicap road race, which will form part of the Mardi Gras celebration in the Crescent City, next Sunday. Kaysing and Probst have been training faithfully for the event, and if not dealt with too severely by the handicapper, hope to make a good showing.

Allen Shaw, Skater, Is Dead.

Allen F. Shaw, at one time the champion ice skater of St. Louis, and also a great hockey player, died at his home, 5185 Maple avenue, Wednesday afternoon. Shaw was 28 years old and single. Funeral services Friday afternoon at 3:30.

SPORT SALAD

BY L. C. DAVIS.

Whifflebats Arrive at Camp; Looks Like First Division.

LEMON GROVE, La., Feb. 19.—After an uneventful trip, taking over 48 hours, Manager Hickey and his husky squad of pennant chasers, who will endeavor to pull down the bunting in the Cactus League, arrived in Lemon Grove at 7:45 this evening, just 12 hours late.

The squad was met at the deppo by the Mayor, the Town Council, the Fire Department and the Lemon Grove Silver Cornet Band. After a sightseeing trip around the city the squad was escorted to the Hotel Fritz-Carlton, which is to be its home for the next six weeks.

The Fritz is an imposing three-story structure of 32 rooms and a bath. There being no elevator the players will have to climb the stairs to get to their rooms which, Manager Hickey laughingly remarked, was a good thing, as it would have a tendency to make the Whifflebats acquire the habit of climbing—something in which they have been woefully deficient in years gone by.

Slide, but Don't Slip.

Manager Hickey, who is thoroughly practical in everything he does, has decreed that in coming down to breakfast in the morning, the players will not be allowed to use the stairway, but must slide down the bannister. Sliding has long been a lost art with the Whifflebats and Hickey is determined to overlook no opportunity to improve them in this respect.

After watching the hungry hordo of athletes zing into the provender set forth by Mine Host Himmelbaum, Manager Hickey remarked to the writer: "By George! I'm proud of that bunch. They look like ballplayers, they act like ballplayers and they eat like ballplayers. While it is a little early to be making predictions, I feel confident that the Whifflebats will have something to say in regard to the disposition of that world's series melon in the fall.

A sentiment in which the writer heartily concurs. Everybody is looking forward with eagerness to the morrow when work will begin in earnest.

After Manager Rickey has thoroughly drilled the Browns in the art of starting, we will note their finish with interest.

The Magnate and the Manager.

'TWAS in the prime of summer time;
The sun was red and round,
The violets and daffodils
Were blooming all around;
And this was very odd, because
The snow was on the ground.

The Magnate and the Manager
Were sitting all alone.
"This team of mine," the Magnate said,
"My reason will dethrone!"
And this was passing strange, because
His head was solid bone.

"Oh, Glory!" cried the Manager,
In ecstasy supreme,
"We'll win the pennant in a walk—
I've got a dandy scheme!"
And this remark was odd, because
He had a tail-end team.

* * *

Dan Griner of the Cards has been snooping around the Browns' training camp. Dan probably wants to absorb some of Rickey's ideas on intensive baseball.

* * *

Milwaukee has a pitcher named Cyril Slapnicka. How Cyril ever escaped Branch Rickey is a mystery.

* * *

It is rumored that Schuyler Britton "wants" Hub Perdue. Yes? We have long been wanting to take a trip through the Mediterranean in our private steam yacht (pronounced yot); the Federals want Tris Speaker and Ty Cobb; C. Webb Murphy wants to be let alone; St. Louis wants to see the Free Bridge finished, and there are quite a number of other long-felt and unfilled wants too numerous to mention. In fact, wanting is one of the dandiest little pastimes we wot of.

* * *

Willie Hoppe, whose regular occupation is playing billiards with George Sutton, has about decided to depart from his regular course and take a whirl at Alfredo De Oro.

* * *

Under Branch Rickey's system of intensive baseball farming we shall expect to see goose eggs hatching out tallies.

If Perdue Is Not Awarded to Cubs He Will Come Here, Britton Says

WHEN the National League magnates meet in Cincinnati Saturday to try Charles Webb Murphy for high crimes and misdemeanors, the Cardinal club will be interested inasmuch its chances for landing Hub Perdue of Boston in a trade for Cozy Dolan depends upon the decision in the Murphy case. If the magnates decide to administer a whipping to the meddlesome Mr. Murphy, they will refuse to sanction the trade of Perdue and Sweeney for Evers. In that case, the Cardinal club will step in and swap Dolan for Perdue, as Manager Stallings wants Dolan, and doesn't give a damson plum about Perdue.

President Britton, home Wednesday from New York and Atlantic City, said that he had hopes of landing Perdue. He thinks Murphy will be sentenced to a life of silence, and also will lose his claim to Sweeney and Perdue.

Doc Lawler Is Located.

Dr. Martin Pike Lawler of Palestine, Tex., has not deserted the Brownies. Lawler already is three days late in reporting to Manager Rickey, but he's now on his way and will pour ointment on the aching arms no later than Friday. He wired Col. Hedges to that effect Wednesday, having started for St. Petersburg.

Another Brown delinquent has been heard from. "Dutch" Hollender, the Georgetown U. shortstop, who failed to report on time, has advised the head office that he will be in St. Petersburg next Monday. He got his signals crossed on the reporting date.

Manager Stallings of the Braves says that Bill Sweeney will be reformed into a third baseman when Johnny Evers takes hold of the keystone berth. If that's true there may be no need of Cozy Dolan. However, Sweeney probably would do better on first than on third. At any rate, he will captain the club.

George Suggs, the righthander secured by the Cardinals from Cincinnati, will sign a life contract with Miss Zelle Cox of Kinston, N. C., on March 4, and then proceed to St. Augustine, where he will join the Cardinals in training.

Seaton Wouldn't Stand for Bonus Contract, So He Signed With "Feds"

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Retention by the National League of the bonus contract system was partly responsible for the Federal League's success yesterday in signing Tom Seaton of the Philadelphia National League team's pitching staff to play with the Brooklyn Federal League club, according to Joe Tinker, manager of the Chicago Federals.

The Philadelphia contract sent on for his signature would make it necessary for him to win 60 per cent of his games this year and to take part in at least 35 games in order to earn the salary stipulated, Seaton is said to have told Tinker.

Seaton, according to Tinker, said he would rather accept a straight Federal League contract than speculate on his own luck and the strength of this year's Philadelphia team.

Hummel Signs With Ebbets.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—"Silent John" Hummel, utility player, has signed with Brooklyn. Hummel played nearly every position on the team during the last few years. Sagnier, shortstop, drafted from Newark; Tommy E. Romanch, shortston, of Cuba, and Joe Tinker, are the only players on the Brooklyn roster who have not yet signed for this season.

Cooler Loses Another Match.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Charles Morin of Chicago defeated Harry Cooler of Indianapolis, 50 to 36, last night in the Interstate Three-Cushion Billiard League match. The victory put Morin in second place. A. Kleckhefer of Milwaukee retaining the lead.

FOUR MEN STRIVE FOR FIRST BASE JOB ON BROWNIES

Rickey Eliminates a Fifth Entrant by Sending Leary Behind the Bat.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 19.—The four-cornered fight for the first-sacking assignment on the Brown club promises to develop keen competition before Manager Rickey finishes his training session at Coffee Pot Bayou. Originally there were five entrants in the free-for-all, but one man was eliminated yesterday when Rickey advised Leary, the Utica recruit, to concentrate his efforts on the receiving end of the game. He looks more like a catcher.

With Leary scratched there still are four huskies after the vacancy which has not been creditably filled since the halcyon days of Tom Jones. Derrill Pratt and Tex Covington are two of the veterans who seem to have an edge on the rookies, Snedecor and Bold; Hemingway, still another first sacker, is considered too light.

Covington Takes Lead.

Snedecor gives great promise as a fielder, but has yet to establish his reputation as a swatter. Bold, a Boston schoolboy, 19 years old, lacks experience in guarding the bag. He can hit and run as well as the next, despite his inexperience. Tex Covington, who showed last fall, really has the edge just now, as he's by far the most finished allround candidate for the job. Tex must overcome a weakness for curve-ball pitching before he will satisfactorily fill the gap, and in the meantime his position will be jeopardized by Pratt, who can do everything well but shift his feet. The consensus of opinion now is that either Pratt or Covington will get the job.

First game of the season Saturday. Jimmy Austin's Red Peppers will antagonize Roy Mitchell's Pan-Handlers. The hardest in this combat will devolve on Rickey's shoulders, as the manager fears the men will hurt their arms in their anxiety to "cut loose."

Joe Sugden took charge of the artillerymen yesterday. The veteran reported to Rickey in the morning and joined the squad in the afternoon.

Among the missing athletes is "Dutch" Hollender, the former Georgetown U. captain and shortstop. Hollender comes highly recommended and has a sheepskin to back up his claims.

Roy Stevens, the De Soto, Mo., pitcher, looks like a hitter. He mauled the ball in practice yesterday, getting drives that make Gus Williams envious. What he will do when the pitchers try their "hooks" is another question.

Bob Wallace is expected tonight. He will be sort of manager pro tem, as Rickey's job is too big for five men right now. Sugden will help to relieve the pressure.

PIKEWAY FIVE TO PLAY KANSAS AGGIES FRIDAY

Although hopelessly out of the championship race, Washington U. basket-ball players will try to redeem themselves Friday night by winning the game scheduled with the Kansas Aggies at the local gym. The Aggies Wednesday evening defeated Missouri, 35—32, in a rough game, and earlier in the season the Aggies whipped the Jayhawkers, who are leading the pennant hunt.

Coach Edmunds will send his strongest team against the farmers, using French, Berryhill, Modisette, Berry and Maener. This squad is too light for the huskies from Kansas, it is believed, but will try to make up in speed what it lacks in weight.

DWIGHT DAVIS' RACQUET RIVAL DEFAULTS MATCH

BOSTON, Feb. 19.—Dwight Davis, Park Commissioner of St. Louis, and partner of the Joe Wear in holding the national doubles championship at racquets, won his match in the singles championship yesterday by default, from George C. Clarke Jr. of New York.

Davis was not scheduled to play today, but in case of defaults, he may possibly be put on.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Smile, Though it Pains You.

JOHN K. TENER'S speech Wednesday suggests the smile of a man seated on the business end of an upturned tack. Tener enters the bromide class with the statement:

"The Federals are not worrying us," and then puts one's credulity to the test by adding that "it is foolish to say the new organization has the major leagues on the jump."

John K. is evidently in pain; but being paid $25,000 per annum, for four annums, to look pleasant, he is able (as most of us would be) to take on a pleased appearance while the harpoon is slowly but surely being eased in.

* * *

All Rules Forgotten.

AS a matter of fact, the outlaw league has tugged at both the purse strings and the heart-strings of organized baseball; and all rules have been forgotten in the scramble to keep out the invaders.

A scout for a major League team told a Post-Dispatch reporter that, in his opinion, AN AVERAGE INCREASE OF $15,000 A YEAR IN SALARIES had been made necessary for each major League club by the coming of the Feds.

In addition, many stars have been lost outright; long time contracts at exaggerated prices have been wrung from the "organized" magnates; the two major leagues have been set at loggerheads, indirectly through the Feds; and the chances are that, in at least four cities of the circuit, RECEIPTS OF MAJOR LEAGUE CLUBS WILL BE GREATLY REDUCED.

And still "WE ARE NOT WORRYING," according to major League club owners.

* * *

Browns Break a Rule.

AST. LOUIS Browns' instance might prove what the Federals have done. The Browns are now carrying 47 players, 12 MORE THAN THE LEGAL LIMIT ALLOWED FOR THIS SEASON OF THE YEAR BY THE RULES.

WHY?

Because the rules have been ignored in the hurly-burly of outflanking the Feds. The 12 extra men might be exposed to the Feds, if turned loose, so they are carried, ALTHOUGH ONLY 35 MEN MAY BE HELD between the months of October and May.

Oh, no—they're not on the jump. They're merely trying out seven league boots.

* * *

Call 'em the "Well Feds."

NO danger that the wolf will ever come howling around the Fed League door. Weeghman of Chicago can seat every player of the league in his chain of lunchrooms. Walker, his partner, deals in fish and oysters. Stifel of St. Louis is there with the "brew." Krause of Indianapolis is a butcher—ought to make a killing with him. The Wards of Brooklyn are bakers, and look after the dough. (Note—A good treasurer here). One Baltimore promoter is named Rasin, while Carroll of Bison City manufactures cigars, enabling the press agents to "smoke up."

About all the National League magnates seem able to provide is beer (Cincinnati) and wind (Chicago).

* * *

Fogelizing Murphy.

SATURDAY the National League will attempt to remove an excrescence or so from the League. THE CASE OF CHARLEY MURPHY WILL ALSO COME UP.

It will stay up, too. The National League, and Ban Johnson thrown in, will have a hard time putting out Murphy, objectionable as he seems. The rights of property are too well safeguarded by the courts to permit any man or body of men from taking away an asset from another, no matter what its nature, without adequate explanations for the larceny.

Murphy has rights and the courts will uphold him. If the National League is wise it will BUY out Murphy at his own figure and smile just like Gov. Tener does, and remark: "He's not even worrying us."

Kansas to Send Squad of 10 Men to M. A. C. Meet

Jayhawkers Will Have by Far the Biggest Entry of Any Conference School.

Since the fall and decline of Missouri U. as a dictator in track athletics, the same dating from the time that John P. Nicholson and Guy Kirksey were graduated, Kansas University has been striving hard to establish itself as the most militant factor on the Missouri Valley cinder paths. The Jayhawkers will send a squad of 10 runners to the M. A. C. relay carnival at the Coliseum, March 14, and will bid for the open events as well as the Missouri Valley conference relay.

The Jayhawker relay team will be made up of Cissna, Ros. Davis, Elswick or Edwards, while Capt. Dan Hazen will compete in the high jump and hurdles. O'Neill will enter the 50-yard dash, with Creighton and Fiske in the 600 and 880-yard runs. Deewall is the Kansas miler.

Missouri U. will send at least eight men, including Capt. Herbert Thatcher, who is tipped to win the shotput. Thatcher has a record of 45 feet, which is as good as any man in the West (save Lee Talbot) can do. Murphy will run the mile for the Tigers, with Hutsell, in the quarter. Coach Schulte hasn't yet nominated his relay team.

McGraw Acting as Agent for Britton in Signing Magee, Wingo and Evans

John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, is acting as agent for the Cardinal club in an attempt to sign Lee Magee, Ivey Wingo and Steve Evans to 1914 contracts. These men are touring the world with the Giants and are at present in France.

When the junketeers reach New York harbor, President Britton will be waiting at the dock with three tempting documents for his men. A Federal League agent probably will be on the job, too, in as much as such desirable athletes as Tris Speaker, Mike Doolan, Sam Crawford and Walter Leverenz are talking of taking the outlaw hurdle, keen bidding is promised.

Where are you going? To Loftis Bros. & Co., 2d fl., 308 N. 6th st., to buy a diamond on credit, and then wedding bells for me.

INDIANS' FORMER CHIEF GOES TO FEDERAL TEAM

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 19.—W. H. Watkins, for several years president of the Indianapolis team of the American Association, and one of the country's baseball veterans, signed as business manager of the Federal League club yesterday.

President Krause of the Feds denied that there was the remotest chance of transferring the Indianapolis Feds to Toledo. The construction of the Indianapolis stands has already begun.

Fred Welsh Due Here This Week for Duffy Bout

Coliseum Management Will Have Both Men on Scene by Monday.

Freddie Welsh of Wales, England, and Jimmy Duffy of Buffalo, principals in the feature boxing event at the Coliseum here, Feb. 26, will both be on the ground to finish preparation for their meeting under the auspices of the National Athletic Club. Welsh will arrive Saturday and Duffy Monday, according to Manager Bishop of the local club.

Duffy has been under the weather for some time, due to ptomaine poisoning, following his fight with Charley White at Buffalo. He has fully recovered, however, and will put the edge on his training here.

Duffy is considered a dangerous opponent, although it is hardly likely either boxer will be able to do material damage to the other in eight rounds, as both are exceptionally clever men.

The rest of the card for the evening is being made up but is not ready for announcement.

THAT LOST ARTICLE MAY NOT BE FOUND TODAY

Or tomorrow or next week. In fact, a month or more may elapse before it turns up. A little persistency may be necessary. Often the article remains unfound; often fear of prosecution or hope of more satisfactory reward may delay the restoration. Then the belated awakening of the finder's conscience explains many delays. But persistency and Post-Dispatch wants will usually recover a lost article if an honest person finds it. The service of the Post-Dispatch Lost and Found Bureau is also enlisted in behalf of advertisers. (93)

PLAYGOERS' GUIDE

John Drew in "The Tyranny of Tears" and "The Will." Olympic. First-named play pleasingly revived. In Barrie's "The Will," Mr. Drew does an effective bit of character work. The playlet itself tells a depressing little story of the demoralizing influence of money-greed.

"The Honeymoon Express." Shubert. Spectacular musical play with ingenious scenic effects. Al. Jolson in blackface comedy role heads big company. Entertaining dancing features.

"Officer 666." American. Return engagement of successful farce-comedy along "detective drama" lines.

Vaudeville. Columbia. Bill headed by Gertrude Hoffmann and company in dances with scenic settings.

Vaudeville. Hippodrome. Bill headed by Evelyn's Wild Animals.

COMPLAINT AGAINST BROWN AV. VIADUCT HEARD BY WOERNER

West End Business Men Allege Hardships Are Worked on Citizens by Interrupted Service.

BUS LINE IS DEMANDED

Action Is Directed Against City, United Railways and the Terminal Association.

Hearing on the complaint of the West End Business Men's Association and other organizations representing Northwest St. Louis, against the United Railways Co., the city of St. Louis the Terminal Railway Co. and the Terminal Railroad Association, in which it is alleged traffic on the Union street car line has been indefinitely interrupted between Brown avenue and Bircher road, began before Commissioner William F. Woerner of the Public Service Commission in the Planters Hotel Thursday.

The complaint, filed in the name of the West End Business Men's Association by Attorney Ephraim Caplan, alleges that the construction of a viaduct, now under way, across railroad tracks between Brown avenue and Bircher road, has deprived residents of Northwest St. Louis of adequate transportation facilities.

Passengers Forced to Walk.

The complaint sets forth that passengers are obliged to walk half a mile through mud and water, from Brown avenue to Bircher road, to continue their trip; that the service on the line never has been satisfactory, and that existing conditions are hampering the growth of that district. The commission is asked to require the United Railways Co. to provide a temporary connecting link by establishing a bus line over the break.

Attorney Morton Jourdan, for the United Railways Co., denied the allegations of the complaint and declared traffic had been interrupted in compliance with a city ordinance instructing the company to vacate the street at the point in question so the viaduct could be built. Joseph L. Howell, attorney for the Terminal Railroad Association, made the same answer.

Viaduct to Be Finished July 1.

R. S. Colnon of the contracting firm now building the viaduct testified that with favorable weather conditions, the work would be completed by July 1, at a cost of $100,000, and that conditions at the viaduct point at the present time are not so unfavorable as depicted.

The hardships of passengers and how the traffic of the line was broken were testified to by Christie M. Farrar, president of the Affiliated Improvement Association of North and Northwest St. Louis.

NEW BILL AGAINST GEROLD SPECIFIES MISUSE OF $48,052

Document Filed by Webb Particularizes Various Alleged Diversions of City Funds.

TRIAL SET FOR MARCH 9

Former Treasurer Accused of Diverting East St. Louis Funds to His Own Use.

State's Attorney Webb of St. Clair County Thursday filed in the East St. Louis City Court a bill of particulars in the pending cases against former City Treasurer E. Fred Gerold, who is under indictment on charges of embezzlement and conspiracy to defraud the city.

Judge Benjamin Pope recently ruled that the cases against Gerold could not be tried until allegations more specific than those contained in the indictments were filed. Gerold's trial is set for March 9.

The bill of particulars charges that Gerold diverted $20,865.60 on the pretense that he had paid this amount to redeem street improvement coupons already paid by his predecessor.

Gerold also is charged with retaining $11,500 in excess of the legal commissions due him for collecting taxes.

It is also alleged that he paid $10,000 to teaming contractors, although the work was really done by his own firm and to his own profit.

The bill also charges that he retained $4137.20, which he falsely alleged had been paid as interest on street and sidewalk improvement bonds, and that he falsified the records to make it appear that he had paid for a city judgment of $1000 held by U. S. Short, and that he paid a claim of $500 to County Clerk E. F. Winkler for making tax records abstracts, although he was not legally authorized to make such a payment.

NEGRO SWEERING SNOW PUNCHES A PEDESTRIAN

Porter Attacks Man Who Berated Him for Not Making a Wider Path.

A riot nearly took place in front of Sam Weiss' tailor shop, 145 Collinsville avenue, in East St. Louis, Thursday, at 7:30 a. m., when G. H. Hord, a negro porter employed by Weiss, and T. L. Mills, a furniture salesman, engaged in a broom and shovel fight before a crowd of men who were waiting for a car.

Hord told the police that while he was sweeping snow from the sidewalk in front of the Weiss shop a week ago, Mills came along and punched him in the face for not making a wider path.

Thursday morning, Hord said, he was sweeping snow again, when Mills passed. Recognizing him, Hord returned the blow of one week ago. Mills picked up a broom and Hord a shovel. The two fought wildly. They were winded before either was hurt. Hord then fled into the Weiss shop, where he and Leopold Weiss barricaded the door. While Mills and the crowd outside threatened to break in.

A call was sent to the police and two patrolmen hurried to the scene.

Mills swore out a warrant charging Hord with assault. Hord was released on bond.

8-STORY BUILDING IS PLANNED FOR EAST ST. LOUIS

Lumber Firms Ousted From Missouri Consider Taking Quarters in Proposed Structure.

SITE ALREADY BOUGHT

St. Louis Capitalists to Put Up $150,000 Structure if Leases Are Closed.

Plans for an eight-story office building at Collinsville avenue and Broadway, East St. Louis, to cost upwards of $150,000, are based on the possibility of a number of St. Louis lumber firms moving to East St. Louis on account of fines and ouster penalties inflicted by the Missouri Supreme Court, for their combining in restraint of trade.

Edward E. Miller of the real estate firm of Miller & Bowman, East St. Louis, to whom, as trustee for St. Louis capitalists, Mrs. Marie Turmes transferred for $90,000 90x54 feet at that corner a few days ago, says that several conferences have been held with St. Louis lumbermen, with a view to the erection of such a building for their occupancy.

The St. Louis capitalists, Miller says, are willing to spend up to $150,000 in erecting a modern office building for it, provided the lumber companies will take leases. If the lumber concerns decide to stay in Missouri it is expected that other plans for the improvement of the corner will be taken up. The ground is now occupied by one-story buildings, for which, however, large rents are collected.

Fines have been assessed against the lumber companies and some have been ousted from the State, but have petitioned for a modification of the Supreme Court's action. The Court has retained jurisdiction over the ousted companies, and they cannot leave the State until the Court gives them permission.

The Chicago Coal and Lumber Co. got out before the Court retained jurisdiction, and is now located in the Murphy Building in East St. Louis.

The fund is being raised under the auspices of the St. Clair County Monument Association, which plans to raise at least $10,000 for a monument to be placed in one of the public parks in East St. Louis.

The officers of the association are E. A. Thomas, president; Frank C. Smith, vice-president; Josie Blackman, secretary; Mildred Reamer, assistant secretary, and George W. Brickler, treasurer. They will be among 36 speakers who will address the pupils Friday.

MAN ARRESTED TWICE ON SHOOTING CHARGE FREED

Suspect in Lawson Mystery Obtains Release on Bond Through Habeas Corpus.

P. E. Ashlock of 301 Missouri avenue, East St. Louis, who was arrested Tuesday for the second time in a week for shooting John Lawson, was released Wednesday on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge Crow of the Circuit Court of Belleville.

His bond was fixed at $500 and the charge placed against him is "attempt to commit murder." Ashlock was first arrested Wednesday, Feb. 11, and was released on a $500 bond.

Tuesday the police learned that Lawson, who is in St. Mary's Hospital, was in a critical condition, and the police rearrested Ashlock, holding that the bond he was at liberty on was insufficient.

POST-DISPATCH'S DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS

UNCERTAIN TONE MARKS TRADING IN WALL STREET

Late Market Hesitates After an Early Rise; Money Is Easy.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"Prices of active stocks opened half a point or thereabouts above yesterday's closings and advanced a fraction further during the forenoon. This was presumably in response to the confirmation of yesterday's Washington reports that the Interstate Commerce Commission would press for an early settlement of the freight rate question.

"The advance, however, did not continue long, and in the afternoon a gradual reaction cut off most of the earlier gains. The market was not active at any time today, and it closed extremely dull.

"This morning's formal statement by the Interstate Commerce Commission, that a decision on the Eastern freight rates would probably be reached within three months, and certainly at least two months ahead of the date when the 'suspension period' was recently extended, sufficiently explained the Washington dispatches of yesterday.

"There is no reason to doubt the explicit statement from apparently trustworthy Washington sources, that President Wilson had urged expedition in the matter, but whether he did or not today's announcement speaks for itself.

"Wall street, which is beginning again to incline towards foolish points of view, has appeared to be solely interested in what Mr. Wilson could have said to the commission's chairman at the White House yesterday.

"It is highly improbable that an exact and certified report of such a conversation will be made to Wall street or any other quarter.

"As regards the part of today's statement by the commission, in which reference was made to the delay of the railways in answering the commission's latest batch of formal inquiries, it may or may not be true that some of these inquiries were wholly germane to the pending inquiry. But it is difficult to see how any railway could do other than promptly its case, a matters stand, by delaying an answer.

Consols Are Lower.

"The recent reactionary movement continued on all the European Stock Exchanges. Consols at London declined ⅜ point further, making a loss of nearly a full point since last Saturday, and of ⅞ from the highest mark of January. They still remain, however, 1⅝ above the closing price of 1913.

"As a result of the export to the Continent of this week's arrivals of South African gold, and of remittances made from the bank for shipment, the Bank of England's statement showed a loss for the week of nearly $3,000,000 gold. That leaves its gold reserve $24,000,000 above this week last year, and again at the highest recorded mark of this date February except for 1896, but the arrest of the progressive strengthening of the bank's position has become evident enough, and was reflected today by a slight further rise in Lombard street discount rates.

"As for the French Bank statement, its showing was so favorable as fully to account for the lowering of the Paris open-market discount rate. The bank gains $3,200,000 gold for the week, and its holdings are now $72,000,000 larger than a year ago, and $16,200,000 greater than at the opening of January.

"In the corresponding seven first weeks of 1913 the gain in gold was only $6,500,000. The bank did not increase its rate again today, but if these tendencies continue the change cannot be long deferred."

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S WALL STREET TRANSACTIONS

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—A strong undertone characterized the morning trading, but the volume of business was small and advances did not reach striking proportions. Advances from Washington that the railroad freight rate case would be decided before the summer holidays put the railroad shares on a stronger basis.

Aside from this there was no new factor of importance in the speculative situation. Discovering and a moderate amount of outside buying operated in favor of higher prices. Movements were limited to fractions in most cases, although some of the specialties made more extended advances.

Bonds were steady.

Stocks were held for higher prices at the opening today and although trading was not in large volume, there was a general improvement in quoted values. Railroad shares made the best showing under the lead of New York Central, which rose a point. General Motors, a strong feature recently, advanced buoyantly, gaining 4 points on the first few transactions.

A disposition to take profits on the opening rise was checked by an announcement by a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission that a decision in the freight rate case probably would be made within three months. General Motors rose 5¾ and reacted 3¼.

Trading was on a diminishing scale in the afternoon, but spasmodic short covering kept prices firm. Foreign operations in advance of the improvement in the market to sell about 5000 shares.

The market felt the absence of the forenoon's sustaining demand, and was also affected by the weakness of some industrial stocks. Prices worked back to about hitherto closed yesterday, or below. Beet Sugar declined 2¼ and Case preferred 4 points.

COMMERCE IS STEADY ON THE HOME MARKET

Bank Stock Changes Hands at $134; Other Issues Are Quiet.

ST. LOUIS CLEARING HOUSE STATEMENT.

| Today | $13,328,291 | $1,389,220 |
| Last week | 15,665,691 | 1,765,803 |
| Increase | $470,200 | *$375,883 |
| *Decrease. | | |

National Bank of Commerce stock showed a firm tone in the earlily local trading Thursday and advanced ¼ a point on a transfer of $134. Later the issue was offered at that price, with $133.25 bid. Third National Bank also presented a firm front on bids at $232 and no offers. Other bank shares were steady.

United Railways preferred stock was inactive, but steady, on bids at $38 and offers at $38.50, and the common was wanted at $11.25 and offered at $12. The 4s were quiet.

The demand in the miscellaneous list was limited. Bonds were steady on most of the issues mentioned.

St. Louis Money Market.

With prime commercial paper in other centers selling at 3¾ to 4 per cent for four to six months periods, it is little wonder that the local market has shown renewed signs of further ease in the past few days.

Rates are 4¼ to 4¾ per cent on the best class of acceptances, but 4½ per cent seems to be the average rate at the present time. Demand loans were made today at 4¾ and 4½ per cent, and the continuance of the recent heavy inquiry for time money is evidence that the market in many respects has not changed since last week.

The Jarr Family

By ROY L. McCARDELL.

Mr. Blodger Is Better Than a Play but the Misses Cackleberry Just Hate Him.

WHEN the Misses Cackleberry got a sight of their stalwart stepfather in his new plush hat and his fur overcoat they were so enraged that they fairly choked.

Mrs. Jarr, who dreaded "scenes," looked around the department store restaurant and saw with some relief that very few persons were near. She caught hold of Mrs. Blodger as she arose to greet her young husband, but this was simply to detain her, for Mrs. Jarr feared the lady from Peoria might endeavor to escape with the young man in the plush hat and fur overcoat, and, the stepdaughters of Mr. Blodger, the two Misses Cackleberry, pursuing and assaulting their mamma's new husband, a most deplorable contretemps would ensue, as the society editress would say.

But Mr. Blodger evidently placed full reliance upon his personal fascination, for he advanced with a merry smile and said:

"And there's our wiff! And there's the Peoria broilers, and there's the queen of society; mitt me dearies, while I give you the up and down."

"And the squaw is glad to see her Honeybunch?" and he leered at his mature bride and she wiggled coyly, while the two Misses Cackleberrys glared and the younger remarked, "For goodness sake, Mawr, don't make a show of yourself, at your age!"

"My age!" cried the mother quickly. "I'm no older than you are when I was your age, and when I was your age I was married and now at my age I am married again. Maybe that's what you both are so mad about!"

"Up stage!" commanded Mr. Blodger. "Nix on the rough stuff; ours is a happy little home! Look, see who's here! Papa home from the rolling mills where he has been rolling rolls to get a roll. Run, Jane, stir up the fire and have the hearth aglow, for it's bitter across the wold and father's on the door mat even now."

And as he said this Mr. Bernard Blodger removed his costly fur coat, threw it on the floor in front of him and deliberately wiped his feet on it.

Mrs. Jarr and the Cackleberry girls gazed at the act of desecration in silent surprise.

"I could scratch his eyes out!" screamed Irene Cackleberry. Mr. Bernard Blodger was not at all perturbed. "And now," he remarked airily, as he stooped down and raised up the fur coat, "see how merrily old Carlo, the watchdog, runs to greet dear papa with his honest bark. Remember, it is Carlo who has the honest bark and not papa. Papa is a rough workingman, 'tis true, but there is no bark on him." And Mr. Blodger stooped over and petted the fur coat to indicate it was no longer a doormat, but instead was the family watchdog.

"Is the man intoxicated?" asked Mrs. Jarr.

"It's just his fun," giggled Mrs. Blodger, "he's better than a play."

"And Martha, my good wiff," said the smiling Mr. Blodger, "'tis well you greet me with a smile. 'Tis a sore task delving in the colliery all day. The masters are cruel hard upon us, lass. But there, now, let me put my horse away, for he, too, is tired from all day at the plow." And he placed the fur coat over a chair. While Mrs. Jarr gazed at it fascinated, not being able to testify whether it was a garment, a dog, a doormat or a horse.

"And how are you, Bernard, my dear?" asked the fond wife of this protean second husband.

"Ah, buss me, good wiff, buss me, and bring forth a stoup of Rhenish, for your knight hath jousted well this day, so buss me, good wiff!" cried Mr. Blodger.

"I'll bust him!" cried the warlike younger Miss Cackleberry. "Oh, don't stop me, Mrs. Jarr, if you only knew how we hated him!"

But just then the orchestra in the restaurant struck up "Too Much Mustard!" and Mr. Blodger rose and bowed to the militant stepdaughter.

"All right, I'll dance with you," said the latter, "but I hate you!"

The Day's Good Stories

iHs Past.

A BENEVOLENT lady was feeding a hungry tramp. She expressed her disfavor at his wandering, idle life.

"I was not always in this condition, mum," said the tramp. "I came from a good family."

"You did?" asked the lady. "Might I ask your name?"

"Blankleigh," replied the tramp.

"Why, that is the name of the people that live next door!" exclaimed the lady.

"I know it," replied the tramp. "They kicked me downstairs just before I came here!"

Couldn't Find It.

ALBERT was sent down by his mother to get some horseradish which he needed about her pickles.

After quite an absence, he came back home, tired and empty-handed.

"Well, where is the horseradish?" asked his mother.

"Why, mother, I went to every livery stable in town and they didn't have a bit," murmured Albert with a weary sigh.

The Critic.

AS the celebrated soprano began to sing little Johnnie became greatly exercised over the gesticulations of the orchestra conductor.

"What's that man shaking his stick at her for?" he demanded indignantly.

"Sh-h! He's not shaking his stick at her."

But Johnnie was not convinced.

"Then what's she hollerin' for?"

It Came Back.

I SENT Marie a valentine, bedight with cupids small.
Across the back I wrote: "For one I love the best of all."
My valentine came back to me; alas! my wasted pelf.
Wrote she: "The address indicates you meant this for yourself."

In the Dark.

A LITTLE colored girl was called upon at school to write a sentence on the blackboard containing the word "delight." This is what she wrote: "Where was Moses when de light went out?"

Overdue Now.

HOW is De Fer financially?"

"All at sea."

"Eh?"

"He says he's going to pay up everything when his ship comes in."

A Valentine.

DO you know," said Dicky Byrde to one of his friends at the club, "Miss Twilkens told me she never really appreciated good poetry until she read the Valentine sonnet I addressed to her?"

"Yes," was the answer; "she told me the same thing."

"Did she, though?"

"Certainly. She also remarked that there was nothing like contrast to assist one in forming an opinion."

Not for Him.

SEE here, waiter," exclaimed the indignant customer, "here's a piece of wood in my sausage!"

"Yes, sir," replied the waiter, consolingly, "but I'm sure—er"—

"Sure nothing! I don't mind eating the dog, but I'm blowed if I'm going to eat the kennel too!"

Helping the Cause.

A MINISTER was horrified one Sunday to see a boy in the gallery pelting the hearers in the pews with horse chestnuts. As the good man looked up, the boy cried out: "You tend to your preaching, mister; I'll keep them awake."

That Dip.

JACK would risk his very bones for me."

"How do you know?"

"He's always willing to tango."

To Suggest a Vacation.

THE rigors of the winter months
And spring pass smoothly off,
But early in the summer time
The parson gets a cough.

Not If He Knew It.

EVERYBODY says we are engaged,' said Miss Antique.
"What of that? Nobody believes it."

Help!

WHY does Binks work as a baker?"

"I suppose he kneeds the dough."
